259.459 Appeals; filing, hearing, notice.

Sec. 29. In cases where airport zoning regulations are adopted by a political subdivision or joint airport zoning board under sections 13, 14, 15 or 17, any person, including the commission on behalf of the state, aggrieved by any decision of an administrative agency made in its administration of airport zoning regulations adopted under this act, or any governing body of a political subdivision, or any joint airport zoning board, which is of the opinion that a decision of such an administrative agency is an improper application of airport zoning regulations of concern to such governing body or board, may appeal to the board of appeals authorized to hear and decide appeals from the decisions of such administrative agency.

All appeals taken under this section must be taken within a reasonable time, as provided by the rules of the board, by filing with the agency from which the appeal is taken and with the board, a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof. The agency from which the appeal is taken shall forthwith transmit to the board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken.

An appeal shall stay all proceedings in furtherance of the action appealed from, unless the agency from which the appeal is taken certifies to the board, after the notice of appeal has been filed with it, that by reason of the facts stated in the certificate a stay would, in its opinion, cause imminent peril to life or property. In such cases, proceedings shall not be stayed otherwise than by order of the board on notice to the agency from which the appeal is taken and on due cause shown.

The board shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of appeals, give public notice and due notice to the parties in interest, and decide the same within a reasonable time. Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney.

The board may, in conformity with the provisions of this act, reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or modify, the order, requirement, decisions, or determination appealed from and may make such order, requirement, decision, or determination as ought to be made, and to that end shall have all the powers of the administrative agency from which the appeal is taken.

259.461 Board of appeals; certiorari; jurisdiction of court.

Sec. 31. Upon presentation of such petition the court may allow a writ of certiorari directed to the board of appeals to review such decisions of the board. The allowance of the writ shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed from, but the court may, on application, or notice to the board and on due cause shown, grant a restraining order.

The board of appeals shall not be required to return the original papers acted upon by it, but it shall be sufficient to return certified or sworn copies thereof or of such portions thereof as may be called for by the writ. any outstanding bonds or other obligations of the authority maturing during the ensuing fiscal year or which have previously matured and are unpaid, and an estimate of the estimated revenue of the airport authority from all sources for the ensuing fiscal year. Airport authorities consisting only of 2 or more counties shall have until September 1 of each year to prepare such budget. The board shall adopt such budget as shall be deemed necessary and shall ascertain what appropriations are required from the several counties, cities, townships and villages to meet their respective shares of the amount of the budget in excess of the estimated revenues. In determining the fair and equitable share of each county, city and township, the board shall establish the ratio that the total assessed valuation of each as last equalized by the state bears to the total assessed valuation so equalized of all the counties, cities and townships included in the airport authority and use the same. Any village included in the airport authority shall pay its proportionate share of the amount apportioned to the township in which it is located, and in determining the division between the township and village, the amount of their respective last assessed valuations as last equalized by the state shall be used as the basis for the determination. The board shall certify to each participating county, city, township and village the amount to be raised by them, and the respective counties, cities, townships and villages shall include such amounts in their next ensuing budgets and shall pay the amounts so certified from any funds they have available or from the proceeds of a tax which they are authorized to levy, in an amount sufficient therefor, but in any event not exceeding 1 mill. Payment of sums so certified shall be due and payable to such airport authority 120 days subsequent to the date upon which local taxes become due and payable in counties, cities, villages and townships participating in the airport authority. Each county, city, township and village shall be liable for the amount so certified. The board shall also render to each participating county, city, township and village, on each July 1, during the operation of the airport a certified report thereof. Each report shall state the condition of the finances, the amount of money expended and the moneys received from all sources. The board shall also file a copy of the report with the municipal finance commission together with such other information as the commission may require. Within 30 days after the formation of any new airport authority, and annually on July 1 thereafter, the airport board shall file with the secretary of state such report as the secretary of state may require, showing the date of formation, the names of the member communities and such other information as the report may call for.

COUNTY DRAINAGE DISTRICTS.

280.51 County drainage districts; application, signers, eligibility, sufficiency; deposit for costs.

Sec. 51. Before a commissioner takes any action on any application to locate, establish and construct any drain, there shall first be filed with him an application to lay out and designate a drainage district with reference to a proposed drain therein; such application shall tentatively describe the location and route of such proposed drain. The application shall be signed by not less than 10 freeholders of the township or townships in which such proposed drain or the proposed lands to be drained thereby may be situated: Provided, That 5 or more of said signers shall be the owners of land liable to an assessment for the construction of such proposed drain: Provided further, If it shall appear to the drain commissioner on filing an application to lay out and designate a drainage district that said district might not include 20 freeholders whose lands would be liable for such assessment, in such case such application shall be received if any one of the signers is a freeholder liable to an assessment for the construction of such proposed drain. The eligibility of the signers to such application shall be determined by the drain commissioner according to their interest of record in the office of the register of deeds, in the probate court or in the circuit court of the county in which such lands are situated at the time such application is filed. The board of supervisors, by resolution, may instruct the drain commissioner to refuse any application to lay out a drainage district unless a cash deposit, sufficient to cover the preliminary costs, accompanies the application. If the drain is completed, the cost advanced shall be returned to the depositor or his personal representative out of the first tax collections on the drain. If uncompleted, any excess above costs shall be so returned. In lieu of an application signed by freeholders as aforesaid, such an application may be signed solely by the board of health of the county if the proposed drain is necessary for the public health of any part of the county, or may be signed solely by any city, village or township when duly authorized by its governing body, if the proposed drain is necessary for the public health of such municipality and if such municipality will be liable for an assessment at large against it for a percentage of the cost of the proposed drain. 280.52 County drainage districts; practicability of drainage; survey, determination; tax delinquency.

Sec. 52. Upon filing of such application for a new drainage district, the commissioner shall immediately cause a survey to be made by a competent surveyor or engineer to determine the area which would be drained by the proposed drain, and the route and type of construction of the drain or drains most serviceable for that purpose. He shall not be limited in such determination to the route described in the application. In any county having a board of county auditors, no survey shall be ordered without the approval of such board but if the application shows, or it is determined thereafter, that any such proposed drainage district will affect lands in more than 1 county, the commissioner shall proceed under the portions of chapter 5 of this act relating to intercounty drains, and in such case the approval of the board of county auditors shall not be required. If upon the survey, or if before the survey is made, the commissioner determines that the proposed drain is impractical, he shall take no further action thereon but shall, in writing, notify the persons who delivered the application to him, of that fact, and his reasons for making his determination. If upon the survey the commissioner determines the proposed drain to be practical, he shall lay out a drainage district, prepare and file in the office of the drain commissioner a description of the drainage district, which may be described by its boundaries of highways and streets and tracts and parcels of land including therein all highways and streets, townships, cities and villages or by a description of all tracts or parcels of land, highways, townships, cities and villages which would be benefited by the construction of the proposed drain, and which would be liable to an assessment therefor, should the drain be constructed as hereinafter provided. The commissioner shall obtain from the county treasurer a statement showing as near as may be the amount of taxes and special assessments levied against the lands in the proposed drainage district on the tax rolls for the 3 years next preceding, and the amount of such taxes and assessments remaining unpaid, and if it appears from the statement that 33 ⅓ or more of the lands in the proposed drainage district have been returned as tax delinquent and still remain delinquent, no further action shall be taken.

280.53 County drains; surveyor, duties; route.

Sec. 53. The surveyor or engineer authorized to make the survey shall ascertain the size and depth of the drains and he shall preserve all minutes with reference thereto. He shall prepare preliminary plans, drawings and profiles thereof, together with a computation of the yards of earth to be excavated, the amount of tile or pipe to be used and the necessary bridges and culverts or fords to be built in constructing such proposed drain, and his estimate of the cost of such construction, and where practicable shall recommend the leveling of the spoil banks. He shall thereupon lay out a drainage district, which district may be described by its boundaries of streets or highways or tracts or parcels of land, or by a description of all tracts or all parcels of land, including therein all highways, townships, counties, cities and villages which would be benefited by the construction of the proposed drain, all of which he shall deliver to the 280.54 Order designating county drainage district; contents, notice of filing, publication.

Sec. 54. The commissioner shall prepare and file in his office his order designating a drainage district and give it a name or number and describe therein the boundaries of the district by streets or highways or parcels of land for each of the several tracts or parcels of land included therein and the counties, townships, cities, villages and state trunk line highways which would be benefited by the construction of the drains and would be liable to assessment therefor, also a description of the drains as determined by him, showing the beginning, route, terminus, type of the proposed construction and the estimated cost of such proposed construction. The commissioner shall give notice of filing the order designating a drainage district by publishing a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, or a newspaper of general circulation in the area where the drainage district boundaries are located, which notice shall give a general description of the route of the proposed drain or drains and of the drainage district as shown by the order.

Same; amendment of name or number of drain, procedure.

At any time after the order designating a drainage district and giving it a name or number has been filed in the office of the drain commissioner, the order may be amended as to the name or number of the drain at any time by presenting to the drain commissioner of the county a petition signed by no less than 5 land owners whose land is traversed by the drain, which petition shall state the then present name or number of the drain and the change or changes to be made in the name or number. Upon receipt of such petition, and if in the drain commissioner's opinion it is to the best interest of all concerned that the name or number be changed, he shall make his order amending the name or number, and thereafter the drainage district shall be known by such name or number. The drain commissioner shall forthwith post such signs upon the drain as he may deem advisable for public notice of the new name or number.

COUNTY DRAINS.

280.71 Petitions to establish drainage districts; filing, signers, certificate of county treasurer; municipality-signed petition.

Sec. 71. After a drainage district has been established and the order therefor filed with the county drain commissioner, a petition to locate, establish and construct a drain may be filed with the commissioner having jurisdiction of the lands designated in such order as constituting the drainage district. Such petition shall ask for the location, establishment and construction of the drain or drains, or any part thereof, as described in said order. The petition shall be signed by a number of freeholders in said drainage district whose lands would be liable to an assessment for benefits, equal to 1/2 the number of freeholders whose lands would be traversed by the drain or drains applied for or abut on any highway or street along the side of which such drain extends, between the point where such drain enters such highway and the point where it leaves such highway and which lands are within the drainage district. Such petition shall be accompanied by a description of the land in said district owned by each signer and by a certificate of the county treasurer as to payment of taxes and special assessments against such lands. Such certificate shall be in substantially the following form:

I hereby certify that there are no taxes or special assessments unpaid against any of the lands described in the annexed list according to the records of the county treasurer's office for the past 3 years, except as follows:

Description	Year	Tax or assessment	Amount
.....	.....	.....	.....

The name of any signer as to whose land such certificate shows taxes or assessments unpaid for 3 years shall not be counted. The eligibility of the signers to such petition shall be determined by the commissioner according to their interest of record in the office of the register of deeds in the probate court or the circuit court of the county in which such lands are situated at the time such petition is filed. In determining the number of owners whose lands are traversed by such drain, or abut thereon as hereinbefore prescribed, the drain commissioner shall investigate the records of the register of deeds, of the probate court and of the circuit court of the county, and shall make diligent inquiry in the community, including inquiry of anyone in possession of all of such lands so traversed or so abutting as to the ownership thereof. In lieu of a petition signed by freeholders as aforesaid, the petition may be signed solely by a city, village or township when duly authorized by its governing body, or by any combination of such municipalities, if such petitioning municipality or municipalities will be liable to assessments at large for at least a percentage of the total amount to be assessed for the cost of the proposed drain. In the event of such a municipally signed petition, then the foregoing provisions of this section, other than the first 2 sentences thereof, shall not be applicable.

280.72 County drain; board of determination; appointment; meeting, successors, compensation, notice to legislators.

Sec. 72. (1) As soon as practicable after the filing of such petition, the commissioner authorized to act thereon, if not disqualified under section 381 to make the apportionment of benefits, may appoint a board of determination composed of 3 disinterested freeholders. If the commissioner is disqualified or chooses not to appoint the board of determination, he shall forthwith file a copy of the petition with the chairman of the county board of commissioners, together with a statement signed by him, showing that he is disqualified or chooses not to act in appointing a board of determination. Upon receiving a copy of the petition and certificate, the chairman of the county board of commissioners, if not privately interested, as soon as practicable, shall appoint a board of determination composed of 3 disinterested freeholders and shall immediately notify the drain commissioner of the names and addresses of those appointed. If the chairman of the board of commissioners has a private interest in the proceedings, the drain committee of the board of commissioners shall then appoint the board of determination. All members of boards of determination shall be residents of the county but not of any township affected by the drain, and any one or more may not be members of the board of commissioners of the county. A meeting thereof shall be called within the drainage district at some convenient place to be designated by the drain commissioner, but if any of those so appointed to the board of determination fail or refuse to serve the drain commissioner shall appoint successors. The compensation, mileage and expenses of each member of the board of determination shall be fixed by the board of commissioners of the county except that such compensation shall not exceed $25.00 per diem exclusive of mileage and expenses for attendance at board of determination meetings. The members of the board of determination shall not receive more than $25.00 per diem for any 1 day no matter how many separate matters were considered on that day. all state legislators of the county who represent that portion of the area wherein the proposed drain improvement is to be constructed of the names and addresses of all persons appointed to each board of determination.

Meeting; notice, mailing, affidavit; expense.

(2) The drain commissioner shall give notice of the time and place of such meeting by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least 10 days before the meeting. Notices shall also be served on the county clerk and on the clerk of each township, city and village in the district personally or by registered mail at least 10 days before the meeting. The drain commissioner also shall send notice by first class mail of the time and place of the meeting, at least 10 days before the date thereof, to each person whose name appears upon the last city or township tax assessment roll as owning land within the special assessment district, at the address shown on the roll, and if no address appears thereon, then no notice need be mailed to such person. The drain commissioner shall make an affidavit of the mailing and shall recite therein that the persons to whom the notice was mailed, constitute all of the persons whose names and addresses appear upon the tax rolls as owning land within the particular special assessment district, which affidavit shall be conclusive proof that notice was mailed to each person to whom notice is required to be mailed by the terms of this section. The failure to receive any notice by mail shall not constitute a jurisdictional defect invalidating a drain proceeding or tax, or both, if notice has been sent by first class mail as provided in this section. All expense of notification shall be paid by the drainage district when created.

Determination of necessity; costs; appeals; first order.

(3) At the time and place fixed in the notice the board shall meet, elect a chairman and secretary and proceed to determine the necessity of the proposed drain and whether the same is necessary and conducive to public health, convenience or welfare. At the meeting all persons owning lands liable to assessment for benefits, or whose land shall be crossed by the drain or any district or municipality affected may appear for or against the drain proceeding. The board of determination, if they deem it necessary, shall require the county drain commissioner to obtain from the county treasurer a statement showing as near as may be the amount of taxes and special assessments levied against the lands in the proposed drainage district on the tax rolls for the 3 years next preceding, and the amount of such taxes and assessments remaining unpaid, and if it shall appear from the statement that 25% or more of the taxes are unpaid on the lands, no further action shall be taken. After hearing the evidence so offered, the board shall make their determination upon the necessity of the drain and whether the same is necessary and conducive to public health, convenience or welfare. If the board shall find by a majority vote of the whole number of members that the drain is not necessary and conducive to public health, convenience or welfare, they shall file with the commissioner an order dismissing the petition, and no further petition for the drain shall be entertained within 1 year after the determination. If the board by a majority vote, shall find the drain so proposed to be necessary and conducive to the public health, convenience or welfare, they shall make their order to that effect and file the same with the commissioner. If the board shall find that any portion of the construction of the proposed drain is necessary for the protection of the public health in 1 or more cities, villages and townships, the order shall set forth such determination giving the names of the municipalities receiving benefit for health. If the board determines that the whole cost, except that to be levied against state or county highways for highway benefits, is necessary for the public health then all costs shall be levied against the townships, villages and cities at large, and it shall not be necessary, in any subsequent order or notice to describe or refer to any lands included in or comprising the drainage district. The governing body of the township, city or village may within 20 days of receipt of such notification by registered mail from the drain commissioner appeal from the order of the board to the probate court having jurisdiction in the county wherein the township, city or village is located. Upon receipt of the order of the board, and if no appeal has been taken by any municipality or municipalities to the probate court, the commissioner, after 20 days shall make his first order of determination in writing, giving the name or number of the drainage district, and shall establish the commencement, route, terminus and type of construction of the drain, a copy of which order he shall within 15 days file in his office. If an appeal is taken to the probate court by any municipality or municipalities the commissioner shall file his first order of determination after all such appeal procedures are terminated.

280.72a Judicial determination of necessity; filing of action.

Sec. 72a. Whenever the board of determination finds by majority vote of the whole number of members that the drain is or is not necessary, any person feeling aggrieved by the determination may institute an action in the circuit court for the county in which the real property is located for a determination of necessity. Sec. 73. The commissioner shall secure from a professional engineer, plans, specifications and an estimate of cost of the proposed drain and descriptions of the lands or rights of way needed for the proposed drain. In approving the route of the drain as furnished by the engineers the commissioner shall not be limited to that described in the petition or in the first order of determination, if the new route is more efficient and serviceable. The commissioner shall endeavor to secure from the owners of each parcel or tract of land to be traversed or damaged by the proposed drain or drains an easement or release of right of way and all damages on account thereof.

Sec. 74. Commissioners may take acknowledgments of releases of right of way and administer oaths in all proceedings in any way pertaining to drains under this act. A simple form of release of right of way and damages that shall set forth by reference to the survey of the drain, or by other convenient description, the particular land to be conveyed and signed and acknowledged by the person having the right to convey, shall be deemed a sufficient conveyance under the provisions of this act. All releases for rights of way shall be deemed to include sufficient ground on each side of the center line of such drain for the deposit of the excavations therefrom. It shall not be necessary for the wife to sign the release of right of way unless she has an interest in the land other than her inchoate right of dower. Whenever a portion of a drain shall be located within any street, highway or public place, then a resolution adopted by a majority vote of the governing body having jurisdiction over such street, highway or public place granting leave to construct such drain therein, designating the place to be traversed by said drain, shall be a sufficient release of the right of way, and shall be

CHAPTER 6.

INTERCOUNTY DRAINS.

280.121 Intercounty drains; petition to establish; filing, signers; certificate of county treasurer.

Sec. 121. After an intercounty drainage district has been established and the order therefor filed as hereinbefore provided, a petition to locate, establish and construct a drain may be filed with any commissioner having jurisdiction of any of the lands designated in such order as constituting the drainage district. Such petition shall ask for the location, establishment and construction of the drain or drains, or any part thereof, as described in said order. The petition shall be signed by a number of freeholders in said drainage district, whose lands would be liable to an assessment for benefits, equal to 1/2 of the number of freeholders whose lands would be traversed by the drain or drains applied for, or abut on the part of any highway or street along the side of which such drain extends, between the point where such drain enters such highway and the point where it leaves such highway and which lands are within the drainage district. Such petition shall be accompanied by a description of the land in said district owned by each signer and by a certificate of the county treasurer as to payment of taxes and special assessments against such lands; such certificate shall be in substantially the following form:

I hereby certify that there are no taxes or special assessments unpaid against any of the lands described in the annexed list according to the records of the county treasurer's office for the past 3 years, except as follows:

Description	Year	Tax or assessment	Amount

The name of any signer as to whose land such certificate shows taxes or special assessments unpaid for 3 years shall not be counted. The eligibility of the signers to such petition shall be determined by their interest of record in the office of the register of deeds, in the probate court or the circuit court of the counties in which such lands are situated at the time such petition is filed. In determining the number of owners whose lands are traversed by such drain, or abut thereon as hereinbefore prescribed, the drain commissioner shall investigate the records of the register of deeds, of the probate court and of the circuit court of the county, and shall make diligent inquiry in the community, including inquiry of anyone in possession of all of such lands so traversed or so abutting, as to the ownership thereof. In lieu of a petition signed by freeholders, the petition may be signed solely by a city, village or township in each county involved, when duly authorized by its governing body, or by any combination of such municipalities, if each petitioning municipality will be liable to assessment at large for public health for any part of the cost of the proposed drain. In the event of a municipally signed petition, then the foregoing provisions of this section, other than the first 2 sentences and these last 2 sentences thereof, shall not be applicable.

280.122 Drainage board; notice of meeting; first order of determination; apportionment of costs; arbitration.

Sec. 122. Upon filing of such petition the commissioner receiving same shall, within 20 days, notify by registered mail the drain commissioners interested and the state director of agriculture, who shall call a meeting within the time and in the manner set forth in section 102 of this act. The said commissioners and the state director of agriculture, or any deputy selected by him, who constitute the drainage board shall thereupon and thereafter jointly take all steps and perform all acts and sign all papers as commissioners are required to do singly in the case of other drains, except as herein otherwise provided: Provided, however, That in all meetings of said board the state director of agriculture, or his deputy, shall have no vote, except as he may cast the deciding vote in case of a tie. At such meeting all persons owning land liable to assessment for benefits, or any district or municipality affected, may appear for or against said drain proceedings. Said board shall consider said petition and any evidence offered, and if it is determined that said drain is necessary for the good of the public health, convenience or welfare, it shall then proceed to determine the just per cent of the whole cost of construction which each county shall bear, and also determine the number of installments in which the drain taxes shall be collected. In case the commissioners cannot agree on the apportionment between counties or the number of installments, the chairman shall determine the same. An order shall then be prepared, signed by the chairman, and to be known as the first order of determination, showing the determination of necessity, determination of per cent, and determination of number of installments, and a copy thereof shall be filed in the office of the county drain commissioner of each county into which said drainage district extends. The drainage board shall be the board of determination and shall determine the question of necessity for any drains located, established and constructed under this chapter. If the drainage board cannot agree unanimously on the apportionment between counties, then the matter shall be submitted to the board of arbitration in the manner prescribed in section 106 of this act and that board's decision shall be final.

The action shall be filed by the person aggrieved within 10 days after the determination of necessity or no necessity by the drain board.

He shall also apportion the per cent of benefits to accrue to any piece or parcel of land by reason of the construction of such drain over and above the per cent apportioned to any township, city or village at large or to any highway as above provided. Such per cent so apportioned when finally approved shall be assessed against such townships, cities and villages and against the county at large by reason of the improvement of the highways within the drainage district, and against the state by reason of the improvement of the state trunk line highways within such drainage district, and against all parcels of land therein according to such apportionment of benefits as herein provided. conclusive proof that notice was mailed to each person to whom notice is required to be mailed by the terms of this section. The failure to receive any notice by mail shall not constitute a jurisdictional defect invalidating a drain proceeding or tax, if notice has been sent by first-class mail as provided in this section. If the board of determination has determined that the drain is necessary for the protection of the public health and that the whole cost thereof, except that part which may be apportioned for benefits to highways, shall be apportioned to municipalities, then mailing of individual notices to persons owning land within the special assessment district as above prescribed shall not be required.

Notices, contents; minutes of survey, table of cuttings, filing, inspection.

The notice shall also contain the names of all counties, cities, townships or villages to be assessed at large, and shall be personally served on the county clerk and 1 or more members of the road commission of any county or road district, the supervisor of any township, the mayor of any city and the president of any village to be assessed at large. The notice shall contain a description of the land constituting the special assessment district for the drain which description may be stated by designating the boundaries of the special assessment district by streets or highways or parcels or tracts of land or by describing the several tracts or parcels of land constituting the district. It shall not be necessary to subdivide any tract or parcel beyond the point where the whole thereof is within the drainage district or to describe the drain further than by reference to it by its name or number. The notice shall also state the number and length of sections, the average depth and width of each section, and in case of closed drains, the amount and specifications of all tile or pipe required; the location, number, type and size of all culverts and bridges and the conditions upon which the contract will be awarded. The notice need not contain minutes of survey or table of cuttings which shall be kept on file in the office of the drain commissioner and be open for inspection at the time and place of the letting.

Review of apportionment; computation of cost; adjournment; appearances, equalization of apportionment.

Bids shall be received and computation of the total cost of the drain shall be made before the time set for review of the apportionment, and such computation shall be open to inspection at the time of review. If the computation is not completed before the day of review, the review may be adjourned from time to time, not more than 20 days in all, for the completion of the computation, or a new hearing may be called with like notice, by publication and service at least 10 days before the hearing. If for any reason, the contracts on which the computation was based are not executed and new contracts shall be let at a higher price, a corrected computation shall be made and a new review held with like notice. At the time and place fixed in the notice, or at such other time and place to which the county drain commissioner may adjourn the same, the apportionment of benefits and the lands comprised within the special assessment district shall be subject to review for at least 1 day which review shall be held open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. On such reviews the county clerk or the county or district road commission may appear on behalf of the county or any road district, the supervisor or commissioner of highways of any township may appear on behalf of a township; the mayor or some officer of the city designated by him may appear for a city; the president may appear in behalf of a village; and any owner of land may appear in his own behalf or by his agent or attorney. At such review the county drain commissioner shall hear the proofs and allegations of all parties interested, and shall carefully reconsider and review the description of land comprised within the special assessment district, the several descriptions and apportionment of benefits, and define and equalize the same as may seem just and equitable.

If issues of fact are raised by the petition for such writ and the return thereto, such issues shall, on application of either party, be framed and testimony thereon taken under the direction of the court. If the proceedings be sustained, the party bringing the certiorari shall be liable for the costs thereof, and if they be not sustained, the parties making application for the drain shall be liable for the costs. If no certiorari be brought within the time herein prescribed, the drain shall be deemed to have been legally established, and the taxes therefor legally levied, and the legality of said drain and the taxes therefor shall not thereafter be questioned in any suit at law or equity: Provided, No court shall allow any certiorari questioning the legality of any drain by any person unless notice has been given to the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this chapter: Provided further, That when such proceedings are brought the commissioner shall postpone the letting of contracts and all other proceedings until after the determination of the court. And if any error be found in the proceedings, the court shall direct the commissioner to correct such error or errors and then proceed the same as though no error had been made.

Sec. 191. Whenever a drain or portion thereof, which traverses lands wholly in 1 county, and lands only in 1 county shall be subject to assessment, needs cleaning out, relocating, widening, deepening, straightening, tiling, extending or relocating along a highway, or requires structures or mechanical devices that will properly purify or improve the flow of the drain or pumping equipment necessary to assist or relieve the flow of the drain, or needs supplementing by the construction of 1 or more relief drains which may consist of new drains or extensions, enlargements or connections to existing drains, or needs 1 or more branches added thereto, any 5 freeholders of the township or townships in which such drain is situated, 2 or more of whom shall be owners of land liable to an assessment for benefits for such work, may make petition in writing to the commissioner setting forth the necessity of such proposed work and the commissioner shall proceed in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the location, establishment and construction of a drain. In case the apportionment shall be the same as the last recorded apportionments, no day of review shall be necessary, but in other cases the commissioner shall proceed in all respects as provided in sections 151 to 161, including the notice of and the holding of a day of review.

In the case of county drains, such inspection shall be made by the drain commissioner, or a competent person appointed by him. In the case of intercounty drains, such inspection shall be caused to be made by the drainage board. Whenever such inspections disclose the necessity of expending money for the maintenance and repair of any drain in order to keep it in working order, the drain commissioner, in the case of a county drain, or the drainage board, in the case of an intercounty drain, may without petition expend an amount not to exceed in any one year $500.00 per mile or fraction thereof or 1% of the original cost of the drain and 1% of extensions thereof for maintenance and repair of any drain. Whenever it shall be found necessary by the drain commissioner or the drainage board to expend funds in excess of $500.00 per mile or fraction thereof or 1% of the original cost of the drain and 1% of extensions thereof in any one year for maintenance and repair of any drain, such additional amounts shall not be expended until approved by not less than 50% of the total number of legislative bodies of all such public corporations, within or partly within the drainage district.

An affidavit of mailing shall be made by the drain commissioner or chairman of the drainage board which shall be conclusive proof that the notices required by this section were mailed. The failure to receive such notices by mail shall not constitute a jurisdictional defect invalidating a drain proceeding or tax, if notice by publication as required by

Sec. 197. Upon receipt of any petition filed under this chapter, the commissioner or the drainage board may, if deemed necessary, require a competent surveyor or engineer to make a survey of the drain or of the district, or any portion thereof, or if necessary lay out a new district including the lands benefited, or to make profiles, plans or estimates of such work and file all data concerning same with the commissioner or the chairman of the drainage board. If upon filing the data it appears that lands have been added to the drainage district, the drain commissioner in the case of a county drain, or the chairman of the drainage board in the case of an intercounty drain, shall notify the board of determination who allowed the petition that lands should be added to the district, and the drain commissioner or chairman of the drainage board shall call a meeting of the board of determination. If any member of the board of determination is disqualified or unable to act, then his place shall be filled by appointment as in the first instance. The notice shall specify the time and place within the drainage district at which the board of determination shall reconvene. The drain commissioner or chairman of the drainage board also shall cause the notice to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or a newspaper of general circulation in the area where the drain improvement is contemplated at least 10 days before the meeting. He shall also send notice by first class mail of the time and place of the meeting, at least 10 days before the date thereof, to each person whose name appears upon the last city or township tax assessment roll as owning land within the enlarged drainage district, at the address shown on the roll, and if no address appears thereon, then no notice need be mailed to such person. The drain commissioner shall make an affidavit of the mailing and shall recite therein that the persons to whom the notice was mailed constitute all of the persons whose names and addresses appear upon the tax rolls as owning land within the enlarged drainage district, which affidavit shall be conclusive proof that notice was mailed to each person to whom notice is required to be mailed by the terms of this section. The failure to receive any notice by mail shall not constitute a jurisdictional defect invalidating a drain proceeding or tax, if notice has been sent by first-class mail as provided in this section. All expense of notification shall be paid by the drainage district.

280.199 Cleaning out drain; apportionment of cost; use of surplus in drain fund.

Sec. 199. In case the necessity for cleaning out any drain arises from the act or neglect of any land owner, said act or neglect shall be taken into consideration by the commissioner in making the apportionment. In case the cost of cleaning out shall be lessened by the tiling of the source of the drain under section 425 of this act, the commissioner may take that into consideration in making the apportionment of benefits against the land so tiled, but in no case shall said benefits be considered to be less than 50% of the benefits to such land if it were not tiled. Should there be a surplus in any drain fund, the commissioner or drainage board, as the case may be, may, in their discretion, without application or notice, pay out of such funds a reasonable compensation for cleaning out any obstruction that may accumulate in the particular drain for which the fund was raised.

LETTING OF CONTRACTS.

280.221 Construction of drain; bids; contracts; readvertisement; installment bonds.

Sec. 221. At the time and place fixed in the notice therefor, the commissioner shall receive bids for the construction of the drain. The commissioner may in any case, and shall for all drains having an estimated cost exceeding $3,000.00, advertise for sealed proposals, to be opened on the day of letting. All sealed proposals received by the commissioner shall be publicly opened by him in the meeting and may be there examined by any person interested. As soon as practical after the opening of bids for the construction of any drain, the commissioner shall determine the lowest responsible bidder and award contracts, or he may reject all proposals and readvertise as in the first instance, and in cases where the commissioner determined that the taxes assessed for benefits shall be collected in more than 1 installment, he shall, subject to the provisions set forth in section 275 of this act, determine the amount, form, maturity and rate of interest of bonds to be issued. In counties having a board of county auditors no drain bonds shall be sold and no drain contracts let without the written consent and approval of the board of county auditors, but the approval of said board shall not be required in proceedings relative to intercounty drains.

Abandonment of petition; litigation.

If no contract shall be let within 5 years after the date of filing the petition to locate, establish and construct, or deepen, widen, straighten, tile, extend or clean out a drain, the petition shall be deemed abandoned and no further action shall be taken to construct said drain unless a new petition shall be filed. Time during which any litigation shall be pending to contest the validity of such proceedings shall not be counted as a part of such 5-year period.

Road commissioners, bid.

The board of county road commissioners, when authorized by a committee of supervisors appointed by the board of supervisors, is hereby authorized to bid for the construction, cleaning, deepening and widening of drains within the county, and, if such bid is accepted, shall be authorized to perform the work called for therein, and receive payment therefor. A bid tendered by such board of county road commissioners shall not be accepted unless such bid shall be at least 15% lower than any other bid tendered. The moneys received by the county road commission shall be credited to the county road fund, and expenditures incurred by the county road commission shall be proper disbursements therefrom.

280.223 Deposit with bid; execution of contracts; forfeited deposits; performance bond; indemnity bond.

Sec. 223. A certified check or its equivalent in such amount as the commissioner may deem reasonable may be required with each bid, whether on opening bidding or sealed proposals, as evidence of good faith and to reimburse the district in the event of failure on the part of the successful bidder to execute the necessary contracts or to furnish the required bond or indemnity insurance. In case the successful bidder shall not execute the proper contracts or furnish the bonds or indemnity insurance required by him within 10 days after the acceptance of his bid, then the commissioner may retain such deposit as stipulated damages for the nonexecution of the contract and proceed to advertise for and let the job anew. If the successful bidder furnishes the bonds or indemnity insurance required and executes the required contracts, then such deposit shall be returned to him. All moneys so forfeited shall be deposited with the county treasurer to the credit of such drainage district fund. The successful bidder shall, within the time above limited, file with the commissioner a surety bond, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract. Such bond shall be in a sum to be fixed by the commissioner, but shall in no case be less than the contract price. The commissioner shall require the successful bidder in any case to furnish a bond or indemnity insurance in such sum as the commissioner may require and to be approved by him, which said bond or indemnity insurance shall run to the people of the state of Michigan and shall be maintained in full force and effect until such contract is terminated to indemnify the drain commissioner, drainage district, county or other municipality by reason of any injury to any workman on said drain, or against any loss or damage by reason of the negligence or carelessness of said contractor in the construction of said drain. Indemnity insurance which shall terminate by expiration or cancellation shall be replaced prior to termination in such sum as the commissioner shall then require.

Sec. 242. The commissioner shall have power to grant a reasonable extension of time for the completion of any contract. When any contract shall not be finished within the time specified, or to which it may be extended, the commissioner shall declare such contract forfeited and shall, within a reasonable time thereafter, relet the unfinished portion thereof to the lowest responsible bidder, by public letting, after not less than 5 days' notice thereof, by posting only, as provided for the letting in the first instance, or by private letting when such can be done, at a price per rod for the uncompleted portion thereof not exceeding the price per rod at which the job was first let; and he shall make contract and take security in each case as herein provided. The cost of completing such part over and above the contract price, if any, and the expense of notice and reletting shall be collected by the commissioner of the parties first contracting or of their bondsman, which moneys, when so collected, shall be deposited with the county treasurer, and placed to the credit of such drain.

Whenever the amount assessed for the construction of any drain shall not be sufficient to complete the same, and to pay all the costs and incidental expenses or to pay the principal and interest on bonds if such are issued, a further assessment shall be made to meet the deficit or additional expense. Such further assessment shall be apportioned, assessed, levied and collected as provided in the first instance, and on the same percentage, and shall be collected in 1 year, but there shall be no review of nor appeal from such further assessment: Provided, That whenever by reason of the embezzlement or other wrongful act of any county official or by reason of the conspiracy of any county official with any other person or persons to defraud any drainage district, township or county, there shall be any deficiency as aforesaid, the board of supervisors of any county traversed by the drain may provide for the payment, out of the general fund of the county, of all or any part of such additional assessment as may be apportioned to that part of the drainage district within such county, or for the refunding to taxpayers of any such assessment which may have been paid.

If the drain fund is insufficient for such purpose because of delinquency in the payment of drain taxes after the lands on which the said taxes shall have become delinquent have been offered for sale, in any such case where payment is made by the county treasurer out of the general fund and all delinquent drain taxes received by said treasurer thereafter shall be credited to the general fund until the same is reimbursed. In all cases where bonds are issued and sold as herein provided and the proceeds thereof are deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the fund of the particular drain, orders presented on such fund shall be paid out of the proceeds aforesaid, or out of the first annual installment of the taxes. 280.245 Drain orders; contents, recording; payment; insufficient funds, interest; drain order redemption fund; payment of drainage taxes; reports to commissioner by county treasurer.

Sec. 245. All drain orders made by the commissioner shall state the services rendered in brief form, shall be numbered and recorded and signed by the commissioner. Such order, when due, shall be presented to the county clerk and he shall immediately ascertain from the county treasurer if the particular fund on which said order is drawn is sufficient to pay said order. If such fund is sufficient, the county treasurer shall so certify on the back of said drain order and the county clerk shall thereupon issue the usual county warrant upon the county treasurer for the payment of said order, taking said order so certified as his voucher. If such particular fund is insufficient when such order is presented for payment, the county treasurer shall so certify upon such order and such order shall then draw interest at the rate of 6% per annum from the date of presentation until such particular fund is sufficient to pay the same, said interest to be computed and paid with the principal out of the proper fund on which it was drawn, when there are sufficient funds to pay the same. The county treasurer shall keep a record in which he shall note each drain order presented for payment on a drain account which was insufficient to pay such order on the date of presentation. He shall note in such record the amount, number, drain account and the date of original presentation for payment. When there are sufficient moneys in the particular drain account to pay the order, plus interest, the county treasurer shall note the date of such sufficiency on such record and shall transfer sufficient moneys to pay such order and interest then due from the particular drain account and drain fund to a drain order redemption fund and the drain order shall cease to earn interest as of that date. Transfers to the drain order redemption fund shall be made in the order of priority in which the drain orders were originally presented for payment. Payment of such orders, including interest earned as provided herein, shall thereafter be made by the county treasurer from the drain order redemption fund. Drain orders at any time during the year in which such drain order becomes due and payable and for a period of 30 days prior to such year shall be accepted for the payment of drainage taxes. The county treasurer shall report to the commissioner the amount paid as interest on any and all such drain orders. The county treasurer shall at the first of each month furnish the drain commissioner with a report of all drain orders cashed during the preceding month, including the name of the drain upon which the order was drawn, the amount, the number of the order, and the date of payment.

Sec. 275. In cases where the issuing of bonds shall have been determined upon, as herein provided, and subject to the provisions of section 221 of this act, the commissioner may borrow money in anticipation of the collection of such installments and may issue as evidence thereof the bonds of the drainage district as herein defined. Such obligations shall specify on their face that they are payable out of the installments of drain taxes to be thereafter collected, and the amount thereof shall not exceed the aggregate of the installments levied. Bonds issued hereunder shall be signed by the commissioner on behalf of the drainage district, shall be countersigned by the county clerk and shall be payable in annual installments equal in number to the installments of taxes, shall mature not earlier than March first nor later than June first of the year following the due dates of the respective installments of taxes. The commissioner shall therein pledge the credit of the drainage district, including the lands embraced within such district and the townships, cities, villages, counties and state trunk line highways assessed at large, in the proportion that they are taxed for the benefits received thereby. Such bonds shall be advertised and sold by the drain commissioner after the manner provided for the advertisement and sale of municipal bonds by Act No. 202 of the Public Acts of 1943, as amended, being sections 131.1 to 138.2, inclusive, of the Compiled Laws of 1948. If any premium is received thereon, such premium shall belong to the fund of the drain. The proceeds derived from the sale of such bonds shall be deposited with the county treasurer to the credit of the drain fund. The county treasurer shall safely keep all such bonds until sold as above provided: Provided, however, That this act shall not be considered to affect any bonds or refunding bonds issued prior to the effective date hereof and subsequent to the effective date of Act No. 331 of the Public Acts of 1927, or any refunding bonds hereafter issued to replace the same: Provided further, That no county shall advance or pay out of its general funds any moneys for or on account of principal or interest of any drain bonds issued prior to the effective date of Act No. 331 of the Public Acts of 1927, or any refunding bonds issued to replace the same.

Sec. 322b. If any person desires during construction or reconstruction of a highway to install a drain for agricultural benefits in lands adjacent to any highway, and if a satisfactory outlet cannot be secured on the upper side of the highway right of way and the drain must be projected across the right of way to reach an outlet which may be legally utilized as an outlet and is suitable for such purpose, the expense of both material and labor used in installing the drain across the right of way shall be paid from funds available for the highway affected if the highway authority is notified of the necessity of the drain sufficiently in advance of the construction or reconstruction of the highway so that the drain may be installed and the highway constructed or reconstructed in the same operation.

On or before December first of the year when such assessment is made, the drain commissioner shall certify to the auditor general the amount due from the state to such drainage district by reason of the assessment of benefits, and the auditor general shall, if satisfied of the correctness of such certificate, cause the same to be paid within 30 days thereafter.

280.324 Drainage across lands adjacent to highways; right of way.

Sec. 324. Whenever it is necessary or more convenient for the proper drainage of any highway in this state that the surplus water be taken onto or across the land adjacent thereto, the county road commission of the county in which said highway is situated may secure the right of way and may open such drain or outlet for the water, and for these purposes may use any highway moneys of the township in which said highway is situated, not otherwise appropriated, and such sums as may be voted for that use by the electors of the townships. The county road commission shall secure the right of way for any such drain by gift or purchase from the owners of the land to be crossed by such drain; but in case of purchase the purchase price must be approved by the township board whenever township funds are involved, before any money be paid thereon. Such right of way shall be acquired by deed duly executed by the owner or owners of the lands sought to be crossed by the said drain, and shall be taken in the name of the township wherein the same is located, and filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county before any highway money shall be expended in opening such drain outside the highway limits.

Approval of purchase of right of way by township board.

Before the township board approves the purchase price of any drain right of way under this section, the county road commission shall submit to the board for its approval details of the proposed drain, with specifications that the drain shall be constructed in accordance with good health and sanitation standards and in such a manner as not to constitute a hazard to health or safety and that in construction of the drain the township board shall approve the use of the land upon which the drain is to be located.

The commission shall also recommend the raising of such sums as it may deem necessary for opening drains from the highway during the coming year, specifying each proposed drain and the probable amount needed for securing the right of way and opening the same. The money voted for this purpose by the electors of the township shall constitute a special highway drain fund, and shall be used for no other purpose. In case any money be left in the fund, after opening the drain for which it was raised, it may be used in opening any other highway drain in the township, or in cleaning out, when necessary, those already opened.

ABANDONED AND VACATED DRAINS—DISPOSAL OF FUNDS.

280.391 Abandoned and vacated drains; procedure; private rights; new drain.

Sec. 391. Any drain or part thereof which has ceased to be of public utility and is no longer necessary or conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare may be declared to be abandoned and vacated in the manner herein provided. Any 5 freeholders of lands in a drainage district or the governing body of any public corporation in whose limits a drain or part thereof is located may petition for the abandonment and vacation of a drain or part thereof. The petition shall be addressed to and filed with the commissioner or drainage board having jurisdiction of such drain. The commissioner or drainage board shall hold a meeting to hear objections to the petition and to the abandonment and vacation of a drain or part thereof therein requested, and shall give notice of such meeting by posting in 5 public places in the drainage district and by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the drainage district which posting and publication shall occur at least 10 days before the date of such meeting. Private rights of persons acquired by reason of the establishment and construction of such drain or part thereof shall not be interfered with, or in any way be impaired by such abandonment and vacation. If it is determined at such meeting that the drain or part thereof should be abandoned and vacated, the commissioner or drainage board shall issue an order to that effect and file the same with the commissioner of the county or counties involved. Easements or rights-of-way for the drain or part thereof abandoned and vacated or easements or portions thereof no longer necessary for drainage purposes shall be conveyed or released by the commissioner or drainage board on behalf of the drainage district. If it be contemplated to construct a new drain or part thereof on or near the line of an existing drain or part thereof this may be accomplished without abandonment and vacation of the existing drain or part thereof and the easements or rights-of-way of the existing drain or part thereof may be used for this purpose: Provided, however, That if the contemplated project materially damages the property owner beyond the existing easement, or if it materially burdens the existing easement, then the commissioner or drainage board shall secure an additional easement for the contemplated project. It shall not be necessary to abandon and vacate an existing drain or part thereof made unnecessary by a new drain or part thereof until the new drain is constructed and ready for service.

Thereupon, every such person, firm or corporation shall be entitled to demand and receive from said township treasurer the amount of the special assessment that such person, firm or corporation may have so paid. The amount of the special tax for the construction of such drain that may have been assessed and collected from the township at large shall be credited to and paid into the contingency fund in the township treasury: Provided, however, That if the amount of money paid over to the township treasurer by the county treasurer in the manner aforesaid is less than the aggregate amount of special assessments levied and collected in such township for the construction of such drain and the tax levied and collected upon and from the township at large, then the township treasurer shall prorate the payments to each such person, firm or corporation and the amount to be paid into the general fund in the township treasury; and each such person, firm or corporation and the contingency fund in the township treasury shall be entitled to receive such proportion of the amount of the special assessment or tax paid thereby as the amount of money paid to the township treasurer by the county treasurer shall bear to the total amount of special assessments and taxes levied and collected in said township and paid into the fund for the construction of said drain.

In case of any payment made by a firm that shall have been dissolved, payment to any member of said firm shall be deemed a compliance herewith on the part of the township treasurer: Provided, however, That if no person who was a member of such firm is surviving or can be found, payment may be made to the distributees of any member: Provided further, That when any person claiming an interest in the amount to which any firm would, if still in existence, be entitled shall notify the township treasurer to withhold payment pending a determination of the rights of various claimants, it shall be the duty of the township treasurer to retain the amount involved

The report shall be filed in duplicate, and immediately upon receipt, a copy shall be forwarded to the department of public works and the clerk shall present the drain commissioner's recommendation to the board of supervisors at the next meeting. If the board of supervisors approves the drain commissioner's recommendation it shall, by resolution, so indicate and direct transfer of jurisdiction over the project to the department of public works. Any money which is in the drain fund of any district or belonging to such project at the time jurisdiction over it is transferred shall be promptly transferred and used by the department of public works for the purpose for which it was accumulated. All assets, files, maps, drawings, specifications, records of procedure, assessment rolls or other data pertinent to the project shall be transferred to the department of public works. Thereafter, the department of public works shall be responsible for further proceedings and the drain commissioner relieved therefrom.

CHAPTER 18.
OBSTRUCTIONS IN DRAINS; SEWAGE; MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

280.421 Obstructions; removal; expenses, notice; livestock; criminal complaint.

Sec. 421. Whenever any person shall obstruct any established drain, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to cause such obstruction to be removed. Any lessening of the area of a drain, which area shall be a cross section of the drain, shall be deemed to be an obstruction. The person causing such obstruction shall be liable for the expense attendant upon the removal thereof, together with the charges of the commissioner, and the same shall be a lien upon the lands of the party causing or permitting such obstruction, and all of the expense shall by the commissioner be reported to the board of supervisors, together with the report of his doings in the premises, and by said board ordered spread upon the land of the offending party, should the same remain unpaid: Provided, That the offending party causing such obstruction shall be given a notice in writing of at least 5 days to remove such obstruction. This provision as to obstruction of any drain shall not apply where the obstruction was caused by natural causes, but the owner of the stock who shall permit his horses, cattle, pigs and other stock to obstruct any drain by tramping in it shall be deemed to be the party causing such obstruction. Nothing contained in this section shall in any way impede or bar the right of any person to make criminal complaint under any existing law for any obstruction of a drain.

HISTORY: New 1956, p. 93, Act 40, Imd. Eff. Mar. 28.

280.422 Obstructions; public utility companies; removal, mandamus.

Sec. 422. Railroad or railway companies, telephone, telegraph, or pipeline companies and other utilities shall not obstruct established drains, nor shall they lessen the area of any drain through their track bed or right of way. The area herein referred to is a cross section of the drain. In case any such company or utility, without legal right, has constructed or shall construct any bridge, culvert, pipeline or conduit over any established drain whereby the area aforesaid is decreased, the removal of such bridge, culvert, pipeline or conduit shall not be deemed an element of damage in proceedings to deepen and widen such drain through such track bed or right of way. In case it is proposed to construct a pipeline, sewer or conduit within, over or across any county, such construction shall be of a nature and laid at such a depth at the point of crossing of any established public drain as will not interfere with said established public drain. The consent of the county drain commissioner or board of public works of any municipality shall be obtained before the work of such construction is commenced and such drain commissioner is hereby authorized to grant such consent upon such terms and conditions as may be reasonable and proper under the circumstances then existing. In case any railroad or railway company, telephone, telegraph or pipeline company or other utilities shall obstruct any established drain, or has constructed or shall construct any bridge, culvert, pipeline or conduit, sewer or other structure over, under or through any established drain, leaving less capacity to the drain than such drain is legally entitled to, in accordance with the rights for such drain as established by proper drain proceedings or as established by other legal methods prior to the date of construction of any such obstruction, the county drain commissioner or the board of public works, as the case may be, may, by mandamus proceedings in the circuit court of the county in which such obstruction shall occur, compel the removal of such obstruction. If necessary, issues of fact may be framed in such proceedings. In case the court

280.423 Use of drain for sewage disposal; construction to purify flow; apportionment of costs; acquisition of land; unlawful use; service fee.

Sec. 423. It shall be unlawful for any municipality, industry, public or private corporation, individual, partnership association, or any other entity to continue to discharge or permit to be discharged into any county drain or intercounty drain of the state any sewage or waste matter capable of producing in said drain or drains detrimental deposits, objectional odor nuisance, injury to drainage conduits or structures, or such pollution of the waters of the state receiving the flow from said drains as to injure livestock, destroy fish life or be injurious to public health: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the conveyance of sewage or other waste through drains or sewers that will not cause the above named injuries. Disposal plants, filtration beds and other mechanical devices as will properly purify the flow of any drain may be constructed and become a part of any established drain, the cost of construction thereof to be paid for in the same manner as other drainage costs as in this act provided. Such plants, beds or devices may be described in the petition for the location, establishment and construction of drains or in the petition for the cleaning, widening, deepening, straightening or extending of drains, or in the application for the laying out of a drainage district. Petitions for the construction of such plants, beds and devices for use on any established drain may be filed by the same persons and shall be received and all proceedings had thereon in the same manner as other petitions for any drainage construction under this act. If the state commissioner of health shall determine that sewage carried by any existing county or intercounty drain constitutes a menace to the public health, and that the cleaning out of such drain or the construction of disposal plants, filtration beds or other mechanical devices to purify the flow of such drain is necessary to public health, he may file his findings with the water resources commission, who may file a petition with the drain commissioner of the county in which such drain is situated or with the drainage board having jurisdiction, as the case may be. The said petition may call for the construction of said disposal plant or other appropriate measures by which the said nuisance or menace to health may be abated. A copy of the findings of the state commissioner of health shall be attached to said petition which shall require no other signature than that of the water resources commission under their name of office, but shall otherwise conform to the law regulating such petitions. Plans and specifications for the construction as part of a drain of any disposal plant, filtration bed or other mechanical device to properly purify the flow of such drain shall be prepared, subject to the approval of the state commissioner of health, and shall be filed with the drain commissioner or the drainage board, as the case may be. Contracts for such construction shall be let in the manner provided in chapter 9, being sections 221 to 223, inclusive, of this act. To meet the cost of such construction the drain commissioner or the drainage board, as the case may be, shall apportion the per cent of such cost among the several parcels of land, highways and municipalities benefited thereby. The costs and charges for maintenance shall be apportioned and assessed each year. In case the apportionment shall be the same as the last recorded apportionment, no day of review shall be necessary, but in case the apportionment shall be changed, notice of a day of review shall be given to each person or municipality whose percentage has been raised. Land may be acquired as a site for the construction of such plants, beds and devices, and releases thereof may be obtained in the same manner as other lands for right of way as in this act provided. shall be unlawful to connect sewage or other waste to county or intercounty drains except with the written approval of the appropriate commissioner or the drainage board, as the case may be, endorsed upon a written application for such service and the payment of a service fee of not to exceed $50.00 for each connection to a covered drain. This fee shall be set and collected by the drain commissioner, as approved by the board of supervisors or the drainage board, as the case may be, and deposited with the county treasurer, to be credited to the drain fund set up for the maintenance or construction of such drain. The commissioner or the drainage board, as the case may be, shall keep a record of applications made and his action thereon. The commissioner or the drainage board, as the case may be, is hereby authorized to reject applications for or require such necessary modification in requested applications for sewer connections to county drains as to attain the objectives set forth in this section.

Penalty.

Failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof, subject the offender to the penalty or penalties described in section 602 of this act.

HISTORY: New 1956, p. 94, Act 40, Imd. Eff. Mar. 28.

280.424 Inadequate disposal or filtration plant; abatement of nuisance; estimate of annual cost, appeal, notice, posting.

Sec. 424. Whenever a disposal plant, filtration plant or other mechanical device to purify the flow of such drain or sewer has been heretofore constructed, but is inoperative or improperly operated and, in the opinion of the state commissioner of health, the public health is endangered by reason thereof, said state commissioner of health may file with the judge of probate of the county in which said facilities are located, a petition reciting his findings and recommendations as to how the menace to health may be corrected or the nuisance may best be abated and how the improperly operated or inoperative disposal plant, filtration plant or other mechanical device to purify the flow of a drain or sewer should be operated. Upon satisfying himself as to the reasonableness of said recommendations, it shall be the duty of the judge of probate of said county to direct the drain commissioner of said county to prepare a plan for and estimate the annual cost of executing the recommendations of the state commissioner of health, and/or of rehabilitation, ordinary maintenance and operation of said improperly operated or inoperative facilities, to prepare a map showing the extent of the area contributing to said condition, and to make a determination of the annual expense thereof apportioned according to benefits to the state highways, cities, villages and townships benefited by the same. Upon receipt of the map, tentative assessment district and other information from the county drain commissioner, the judge of probate shall give notice of said facts and of the date of receiving appeals by publication in at least 2 insertions in some newspaper published and of general circulation in the county, if there be one, the first publication to be at least 10 days before the date set for receiving appeals and said notice shall also be posted at least 10 days before the date for receiving appeals in 5 or more conspicuous places in each city, village and township, where any part of the district may be located and within the limits of such district.

Review of apportionment; notice of appeal, board of review, appointment, meeting.

The state highway commissioner or any city, township or village which may feel aggrieved by the apportionment of benefits so made by the drain commissioner may make an application to said probate court for review of the apportionment by a board of review by filing with said probate court a notice of appeal. Only 1 board of review shall be appointed by said court. Upon receipt of any such notices of appeal, as herein-before provided, the probate court shall forthwith notify the drain commissioner, in writing, of such appeal and thereupon make an order appointing 3 disinterested freeholders of such county, not residents of said district, to constitute such board of review. The court shall thereupon, with the concurrence of the drain commissioner, immediately fix the time and place when and where said board of review shall meet to review said apportionments, which said time shall be not less than 10 nor more than 15 days from the date of filing such appeal.

Same; notice of meeting, service, return.

The drain commissioner shall thereupon give notice to the persons so appointed of their appointment and of the time and place of meeting and shall give notice of such meeting by posting notices in at least 5 public places in each city, village and township forming a part of the drainage district and shall serve a like notice upon the state highway commissioner and each of said cities, villages and townships. Such service shall be made not less than 5 days before hearing. Return shall be made by the person serving said notice and shall be filed in the office of the judge of probate. At such hearing the board of review shall have the right and it shall be their duty to review all apportionments made by the drain commissioner. Persons appointed on said board of review shall be sworn by the drain commissioner to faithfully discharge their duties as members of said board.

Same; certiorari; roll of apportionments; payment by municipalities.

The board of review shall proceed at the time and place specified in the notice to hear the proofs and allegations of all parties in respect to the matter of appeal. A review of apportionments shall be made by the board of review and if, in their judgment, there shall be manifest error or inequality in such apportionments, they shall order and make such changes therein as they shall deem just and equitable. Determination of the drain commissioner, if not appealed from, or of said board, in case of an appeal, shall be final and there shall be no right of appeal from such determination, except by writ of certiorari to the proper court. The determination shall be reduced to writing and signed by the drain commissioner, or in case of appeal a majority of the board making the same, and shall be delivered to the judge of probate together with all other papers relating thereto. Upon the apportionments becoming final, as hereinbefore set forth, the judge of probate shall deliver said approved roll of apportionments of benefits and expense to the drain commissioner, who shall assess the amounts therein set forth to the respective cities, villages and townships involved, and said cities, villages and townships shall thereafter make payment thereof as collected in quarterly installments to the county treasurer to be deposited in a separate fund for the rehabilitation, ordinary maintenance and operation of said facilities, which said fund shall be paid out only on the order of the drain commissioner of the county in which said facilities are located.

Same; payment for services; costs; annual assessments; reapportionment.

Payment for services and providing for substitute membership necessary on the board of review shall be in accordance with sections 158 and 159 of this act. Such necessary costs of the proceeding shall be determined by the judge of probate, said cost to be paid from the revolving fund of the county and same to be returned to the county out of the first assessment against said district. Immediately upon receipt of sufficient funds so to do, the drain commissioner of the county shall proceed with the rehabilitation, ordinary maintenance and operation of said facilities, and shall continue the same as long as funds are available. The costs and charges hereinbefore set forth shall be an annual charge and shall be assessed against the state highways and the several cities, villages and townships by said drain commissioner each year as long as said facility continues to be operated, unless in the opinion of the drain commissioner, the state

Municipal assessments added to water rates.

The several cities, villages and townships against whom an assessment is made, as hereinbefore provided, shall collect for such expense so assessed to them under this act by charges for the use of said facilities, to be added to and collected with the water rates of said cities, villages and townships, in the same manner as other water rates of said cities, villages and townships are collected, or in such other manner as the several governing bodies of said respective cities, villages and townships may determine.

280.425 Additional drains at expense of petitioner; construction, consent, supervision; open drain, tiling.

Sec. 425. Any land owner in the drainage district whose land requires additional drainage may petition the commissioner for permission to construct a drain, by the use of drainage conduits, to any regularly established drain, and said permission shall be granted by the commissioner when, in his opinion, the nature of the ground to be crossed will admit thereof and the surface of the land can be restored and for such purpose said drain may traverse the lands of other freeholders in the district: Provided, That before such permission be granted by said commissioner the consent in writing of the owner or owners of the lands to be traversed by said proposed drain be obtained, or in case permission is refused by the owner or owners of the lands to be traversed by said proposed drain, such drain may be established by following the provisions of this act governing the location, establishment and construction of county or inter-county drainage districts and drains therein, as the case may be: Provided further, That the entire expense thereof shall be borne by such petitioner, and that the construction of such drain shall be done at such time and in such manner as the commissioner shall prescribe. When drains are constructed, the entrance thereto shall be substantially protected from driftwood and debris. Any application to lay out and designate a drainage district or petition to locate, establish and construct a drain under the foregoing provisions of this section shall only require the signature or signatures of the petitioning land owner or owners, other provisions of this act notwithstanding. In case permission is granted to tile the source of a drain, the commissioner shall further prescribe the amount and part of the drain to be tiled and the manner of tiling. Any person through whose land an open drain has been established and constructed may make a written request to the county drain commissioner to be permitted, at his own expense, to tile and cover with earth the whole or any part thereof that may traverse his land, and the commissioner may grant such request, but in doing so he shall prescribe the size of the tile to be used: Provided, That no permit shall be issued to tile or crock any established drain that will lessen the area of the drain as established.

tion and expenses. Before any agreement is approved and executed on behalf of a drainage district by the drain commissioner or drainage board, there shall be obtained, at the expense of the owner or developer of the lands to be added, a certificate, from a registered professional engineer satisfactory to the drain commissioner or the drainage board, to the effect that the lands to be added naturally drain into the area served by the existing drain or that the existing drain is the only reasonably available outlet for the drainage from the lands to be added and that there is existing capacity in the existing drain to serve the lands to be added without detriment to or diminution of the drainage service provided or to be provided, in the foreseeable future, to the area in the existing drainage district. If the existing drain in the existing drainage district has been financed by the levy of drain special assessments on the lands in the drainage district and if the basis of special assessment as applied to the lands to be added to the drainage district would result in a drain special assessment on the lands to be added in an aggregate principal amount greater than the costs and expenses to be paid or incurred by the owner and developer of the lands for the new drain facilities at the time of entering into the agreement, then the owner or developer shall also pay the amount of the excess to the drainage district at the time of execution of the agreement. In addition thereto, the developer or owner of the added lands shall pay a pro rata equitable share of the cost of the original construction of the drain, if any. Lands added to any drainage district by agreement shall be liable from and after the date of agreement for all assessments thereafter levied for operation and maintenance of the drain, including the extension thereof pursuant to the agreement and such lands shall be a part of the drainage district for all other purposes and procedures set forth in this act. All drain facilities and all rights of way, easements or property in which the same are located, acquired or constructed pursuant to the agreement to add lands shall be dedicated to public use or conveyed or transferred to the drainage district and the drain facilities shall thereafter be a part of the drain the same as if originally located, established and constructed by procedures set forth in this act as a part of the original drain. An existing intracounty or intercounty drain may be extended or have branches added to provide additional service to lands within the drainage district by agreement between the drain commissioner or the drainage board and the owner or developer of the land, pursuant to the foregoing procedures and conditions set forth in this section. The affected public corporations or municipalities in which the proposed lands are to be added will be apprised of said agreement by the drain commissioner or drainage board and the public corporations or municipalities shall consent by appropriate resolution to the addition of the affected lands to the drainage district area.

Sec. 434. Any public or private corporation, firm or individual may advance moneys for the payment of any part of the cost of a drain project and be reimbursed by the drainage district, with or without interest as may be agreed, when funds are available therefor. The obligation of the drainage district to make the reimbursement may be evidenced by a contract or note, which contract or note may pledge the full faith and credit of the drainage district and may be made payable out of the drain assessments made against public corporations at large or against lands in the drainage district or out of the proceeds of drain orders or bonds issued by the drainage district pursuant to this act or out of any other available funds, and the contract or note shall be deemed

CHAPTER 19.

CONSOLIDATED DISTRICTS.

280.441 County drainage districts; consolidation; petition, proceedings, signers; board of determination, residence, meeting, compensation.

Sec. 441. Any 2 or more drainage districts, in whole or in part, or any combination thereof, located in the same county and in the same drainage basin or in adjoining basins, may be consolidated and organized as a single drainage district upon the filing of a petition therefor with the drain commissioner of the county setting forth the reason for the proposed consolidation. The consolidation may include lands not within any existing drainage district if the petition so requests. The petition shall be signed by at least 50 freeholders within the proposed consolidated drainage district. If in the proposed consolidated drainage district there are less than 100 freeholders, then the petition shall be signed by at least 50% of the freeholders in the proposed consolidated drainage district. In lieu of a petition signed by freeholders, a petition may be signed solely by a city or township any portion of which is located within the proposed consolidated drainage district, when duly authorized by its governing body, or by any combination of municipalities. As soon as practicable after the filing of a petition, the drain commissioner, if not disqualified under section 381 of this act, may appoint a board of determination composed of 3 disinterested freeholders to determine the necessity of the consolidation. If the commissioner is disqualified or chooses not to appoint the board of determination, he shall forthwith file a copy of the petition with the chairman of the board of supervisors, together with a statement signed by him showing that he is disqualified or chooses not to act in appointing a board of determination. Upon receiving a copy of the petition and certificate, the chairman of the board of supervisors, if not privately interested, shall appoint as soon as practicable a board of determination and shall immediately notify the drain commissioner of the names and addresses of those appointed. If the chairman of the board of supervisors has a private interest in the proceedings, the drain committee of the board of supervisors shall appoint the board of determination. All members of a board of determination shall be residents of the county but not of the proposed consolidated drainage district or of any drainage district a part of which is to be included in the proposed consolidation. A meeting thereof shall be called within the proposed consolidated drainage district at some convenient place to be designated by the drain commissioner. If any person appointed to the board of determination fails or refuses to serve, then a successor shall be appointed by the official or committee making the appointment in the first instance. The compensation of each member of the board of determination shall be $8.00 per day with no additional allowance for mileage; but the board of supervisors of any county may increase the per diem compensation of members of the board of determination.

Meeting; notice, service, first class mail, affidavit of mailing, expense.

The drain commissioner shall give notice of the time and place of the meeting by publication twice in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or a newspaper of general circulation in the proposed consolidated drainage district, the first publication of which shall be at least 10 days before the meeting. Notices shall also be served on the county clerk and the clerk of each township or city in the proposed consolidated drainage district, personally or by certified mail, at least 10 days before the meeting. The drain commissioner shall send notice by first class mail of the time and place of the meeting at least 10 days before the date thereof to each person whose name appears upon the last city or township tax assessment roll as owning land within the existing drainage districts, all or any portions of which are proposed to be consolidated, or owning lands within the proposed consolidated drainage district whose lands are not within an existing drainage district, at the address shown on such roll. If no address appears on the roll, then no notice need be mailed to such persons. The drain commissioner shall make an affidavit of the mailing and shall recite therein that the persons to whom the notice was mailed constitute all of the persons to whom notice must be sent. The affidavit shall be conclusive proof that notice was mailed to each person to whom notice is required to be mailed by the terms of this section. The failure to receive any notice by mail shall not constitute a jurisdictional defect invalidating a drain proceeding if notice has been sent by first-class mail as provided in this section. All expense of notification shall be paid by the drainage district when created.

Determination as to conduciveness to public health, convenience or welfare, filing of funds.

At the time and place fixed in the notice the board shall meet, elect a chairman and a secretary and proceed to determine whether the proposed consolidation is conducive to public health, convenience or welfare. At the meeting all persons owning lands in the proposed consolidated drainage district, or in any portion of any established drainage district a part of which is to be included in such consolidation, or any municipality affected may appear for or against the proposed consolidation. After hearing the evidence, the board shall make its determination as to whether the proposed consolidation is conducive to public health, convenience or welfare. If the board finds by a majority vote of the whole number of members that the proposed consolidation is not conducive to public health, convenience or welfare, it shall file with the commissioner an order dismissing the petition, and no further petition for the drain shall be entertained within 1 year after such determination. If the board by a majority vote finds that the proposed consolidation is conducive to the public health, convenience or welfare, it shall make its order to that effect and file the same with the commissioner. Upon receipt of the order of consolidation, the commissioner shall enter an order giving the consolidated drainage district a name or number.

280.441a Intercounty drainage districts; consolidation; petition; drainage board.

Sec. 441a. Any 2 or more drainage districts, in whole or in part, or any combination thereof, may be consolidated and organized as a single drainage district under this section where the proposed consolidated district lies within more than 1 county, upon the filing of a petition in writing with the commissioner of any county having jurisdiction of any lands in the proposed consolidated drainage district, setting forth the reason for the proposed consolidation. The consolidation may include lands not within any existing drainage district if the petition shall so request. The petition shall be signed by at least 50 freeholders within the proposed consolidated drainage district. If in the proposed consolidated drainage district there are less than 100 freeholders, then the petition shall be signed by at least 50% of the freeholders in the proposed consolidated drainage district. In lieu of a petition signed by freeholders, a petition may be signed solely by a city or township any portion of which is located within the proposed consolidated drainage district, when duly authorized by its governing body, or by any combination of municipalities. Meeting, notice, first class mail, affidavit of mailing, expense.

The state director of agriculture shall call a meeting of the drainage board not less than 15 days nor more than 60 days from the receipt of the notice. The meeting shall be held in the immediate locality of the proposed consolidated drainage district. Notices of the meeting shall be served on the clerk of each county, township and city within the proposed consolidated drainage district, personally or by certified mail, at least 10 days before the meeting. A notice of the meeting shall be published twice in each county affected in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or in a newspaper of general circulation in the proposed consolidated drainage district, the first publication of which shall be at least 10 days before the meeting. The drain commissioner of each county in which lie lands proposed to be consolidated into the proposed consolidated district shall also send notice of the time and place of the meeting by first class mail, at least 10 days before the date thereof, to each person whose name appears upon the last city or township tax assessment roll as owning land within the existing drainage districts, all or any portions of which are proposed to be consolidated, or owning lands within the proposed consolidated drainage district which are not within an existing drainage district, at the address shown on such roll; and if no address appears thereon, then no notice need be mailed to such persons. Each drain commissioner shall make an affidavit of the mailing and shall recite therein that the persons to whom the notice was mailed constitute all of the persons to whom notice must be sent. The affidavits shall be conclusive proof that notice was mailed to each person to whom notice is required to be mailed by the terms of this section. Upon convening the meeting the state director of agriculture or any deputy selected by him shall act as chairman. The drainage board shall consider the application for the proposed consolidated drainage district, and determine the sufficiency of the signatures thereto. The drainage board shall then proceed to determine whether the proposed consolidation is conducive to public health, convenience or welfare. At the meeting all persons owning lands in the proposed consolidated drainage district, or in any portion of any established drainage district a part of which is to be included in such consolidation, or any municipality affected may appear for or against the proposed consolidation. After hearing the evidence, the drainage board shall make its determination as to whether the proposed consolidation is conducive to public health, convenience or welfare. If the board finds by a majority vote of the whole number of members that the proposed consolidation is not conducive to public health, convenience or welfare, it shall file with the chairman an order dismissing the petition, and no further petition for consolidation shall be entertained within 1 year after such determination. If the board by a majority vote finds that the proposed consolidation is conducive to the public health, convenience or welfare, it shall make its order to that effect and file the same with the chairman. In making the apportionments hereunder, there shall be taken into consideration the benefits to accrue to each public corporation and also the extent to which each public corporation contributes to the conditions which make the drain necessary. Apportionments against the state shall be based upon such benefits and contributions as related solely to the drainage of state highways, and those against the county shall be based as related solely to the drainage of its county highways. Before any tentative apportionment shall be made, the drainage board shall designate the area to be served by the drain project, which may or may not include all of the area in any public corporation to be assessed and may divide the drain into sections or parts for purposes of apportionment or construction. Nothing herein contained shall prohibit the county from assuming any additional cost of the drain if 2/3 of the members elect of the board of supervisors vote in favor thereof. The apportionment shall only apply to the proposed drain. The apportionments for any extensions or other work subsequently performed under section 482 shall be re-established by the board.

Sec. 469. After the foregoing tentative apportionments of cost have been made, then the drainage board shall set a time and place when and where it will meet and hear any objections to such apportionments. Notice of such hearing shall be published twice in the county by inserting the same in at least 1 newspaper published therein, designated by the drainage board, the first publication to be not less than 20 days prior to the time of hearing. Such notice shall also be sent by registered mail to the clerk or secretary of each public corporation proposed to be assessed, except that any notice to the state shall be sent to the state highway commissioner and any notice to the county shall be sent both to the county clerk and the county road commission, if any, which mailing shall be made not less than 20 days prior to the time of hearing. Such notice shall be signed by the chairman and proof of the publication and mailing thereof shall be filed in his office. The drainage board may provide a form to be substantially followed in the giving of such notice. The notice shall include tentative apportionments to the several public corporations. At such hearing, any public corporation to be assessed or any taxpayer thereof shall be entitled to be heard. After such hearing, the drainage board may confirm the apportionments as tentatively made, or if in any respect it shall deem such apportionments to be inequitable, it shall readjust the same: Provided, That if such readjustment shall involve the increasing of any assessment and such increase shall not be consented to by resolution of the governing body of the public corporation whose assessment was increased, then before any readjusted apportionments shall be confirmed the drainage board shall set a time and place for a rehearing and shall give notice thereof as in the first instance, which notice shall also set forth the apportionments as readjusted. After confirmation, the drainage board shall issue its order setting forth the several apportionments as confirmed, which order shall be known as the "final order of apportionment".

280.470 Drainage board; lands and rights of way, condemnation; procedure, federal government participation; costs.

Sec. 470. The drainage board shall then proceed to secure the necessary lands or rights of way for the proposed drain. If the same cannot be secured by negotiation, then the drainage board may proceed under the provisions of Act No. 149 of the Public Acts of 1911, as amended, being sections 213.21 to 213.41 of the Compiled Laws of 1948, or under the applicable provisions of sections 75 to 84 of this act, and shall be deemed to be a "state agency" as that term is used in said act, or if the project is one in which the federal government is participating in any manner, then such lands or rights of way may be acquired through proceedings brought by the federal government under any appropriate federal act. In the event lands or rights of way shall be acquired through proceedings under a federal act, then the amount of the awards in such proceeding shall be deemed to be a part of the cost of the drain to the same extent as if the condemnation proceedings had been taken under the laws of this state.

Sec. 471. The drainage board may contract with the federal government, which term as used in this section shall include any agency thereof, whereby the federal government will pay the whole or any part of the cost of the project or will perform the whole or any part of the work connected therewith, which contract may include any specific terms required by act of congress or federal regulation as a condition for such participation on the part of the federal government. The drainage board may also contract with any private corporation or with any public corporation, which term as used in this section shall include any agency thereof, in respect to any matter connected with the construction, operation, maintenance, use or services of any drain. Such a contract may provide for service or transportation charges and that any payments made or work done by such corporation shall relieve it in whole or in part from assessment for the cost of the drain or of its maintenance and operation. No construction work shall be undertaken until the drainage board has advertised for and received bids for the performance of such work, except for construction work to be performed by the federal government or a public corporation.

280.473 Special assessment roll; installments, payment, interest.

Sec. 473. After the confirmation of the apportionments by the drainage board, the chairman of the board shall prepare a special assessment roll assessing the estimated cost of the drain, or if the actual cost has been ascertained, then the actual cost, against the several public corporations in accordance with the confirmed apportionments. The drainage board may provide for the payment of the special assessments in any number of annual installments, not exceeding 30, but no installment shall be less than 40% of any subsequent installment. The drainage board shall fix the amount of interest, not exceeding 6%, to be paid upon unpaid installments, which interest shall become due annually on the day and month upon which the annual installments become due. The drainage board may provide for the payment of any installments in advance of their respective due dates and may prescribe the terms and conditions thereof. The drainage board shall fix the time in each year on which the first installment and each of the subsequent installments of special assessments become due and payable so that each public corporation can make a tax levy for the payment thereof.

280.474 Special assessment roll; contents, approval; certification to public corporation assessed; annual notice; advancements.

Sec. 474. The special assessment roll shall contain the name of each public corporation assessed, the total estimated cost of the project, or actual cost if the same has been ascertained at the time of the preparation of the roll, the percentage apportioned to each public corporation, the amount of the assessment against each public corporation based upon the percentage of apportionment, and the amount of each installment if the assessment is divided into annual installments. After the special assessment roll has been prepared, it shall be presented to the drainage board for approval. When the roll has been approved, then a statement to that effect, signed by the chairman of the drainage board, shall be affixed to the roll setting forth the date of approval. The chairman of the drainage board shall then certify to each public corporation assessed the amount of the total assessment against it, the amount of the various installments if the assessment is divided into installments, the due date of each installment and the rate of interest upon installments from time to time unpaid. The chairman each year, at least 30 days prior to the time of the levying of taxes by each public corporation, shall notify it of the amount of the installment and interest next becoming due, but the failure to notify any public corporation shall not excuse it from making payment of the installment and interest. On or before the due date of any installment, each public corporation shall pay to the county treasurer the full amount thereof, together with interest accruing to the due date. If any public corporation fails or neglects to account to the county treasurer for the amount of any installment and interest, then the county treasurer shall advance the amount thereof from county funds in the following cases:

(1) If any bonds or other evidence of indebtedness have been issued to finance a project, the petition for which was filed after June 6, 1961 in anticipation of the collection of the installment and interest pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and the board of supervisors has previously acted, by a resolution adopted by a 2/3 vote of its

The county treasurer shall deduct the total amount so advanced from any moneys, other than those pledged for the payment of debts and those returned to the public corporation pursuant to article 10, section 23 of the state constitution, then or thereafter payable by him to the public corporation. The board of supervisors of any county which has advanced any money for a public corporation and which has not been reimbursed therefor, may order the public corporation and its officers to levy upon its next tax roll an amount sufficient to make the reimbursement on or before the date when its taxes become delinquent; and the public corporation and its tax levying and collecting officials shall levy and collect such taxes and reimburse the county. The foregoing shall not prevent the county from obtaining reimbursement by any other legal method. Assessments against the state shall be certified to the state highway commissioner and paid from state highway funds. The tax levying officials of each of the other public corporations assessed shall levy sufficient taxes to pay assessment installments and interest as the same become due unless there has been set aside moneys sufficient therefor. Any city may elect to spread the tax levy upon the county tax roll instead of the city tax roll. If a special assessment roll is prepared upon the basis of the estimated cost of the project, then after the actual cost has been ascertained and determined by the drainage board, the special assessments and the installments thereof shall be corrected by adding any deficiency or deducting any excess. The drainage board may order the corrections to be made upon the original roll or may order that a new corrected roll or a supplemental roll be prepared and submitted for approval by the drainage board.

280.475 Assessments and taxes not subject to statutory or charter debt and tax limitations.

Sec. 475. Assessments made under the terms of this chapter shall not constitute an indebtedness of a public corporation within any statutory or charter debt limitation, and taxes levied by a public corporation for the payment of such assessments shall not be deemed to be within any statutory or charter tax limitation. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as requiring any county, township, metropolitan district or authority to levy a tax beyond its constitutional tax limitation or any lawful increase thereof.

280.477 Additional assessment; apportionment.

Sec. 477. If, for any reason, the original assessments shall not be sufficient to pay the principal and interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection thereof, then the drainage board shall make such additional assessments therefor as may be necessary, apportioned as in the first instance, it being the intention hereof that the collections on assessments shall, under all circumstances, be sufficient to pay said principal and interest.

HISTORY: New 1956, p. 104, Act 40, Imd. Eff. Mar. 28.

280.478 Drainage board; continuation; responsibility; expenses; relinquishment; moneys, disposition, consent.

Sec. 478. The drainage board for each project shall continue in existence with such changes in personnel as shall result from changes in the officers constituting the board membership. It shall be responsible for the operation and maintenance of the drain. Any necessary expenses incurred in administration and in the operation and maintenance of the drain and not covered by contract shall be paid by the several public corporations assessed for the cost of the drain. The assessments shall be in the same proportion as the cost of the drain was assessed unless the drainage board establishes a different proportion for the assessments after notice and hearing as provided in section 469. The drainage board, by resolution duly adopted by it, may relinquish jurisdiction and control over all or any part of a drain or drain project at any time when there is no outstanding indebtedness or contract liability of its drainage district, to the county, township, city or village in which all or the part of the drain or drain project is wholly located, if the county, township, city or village requests or consents to the relinquishment of jurisdiction and control by resolution duly adopted by its governing body. Indebtedness or contract liability of any drainage district which will be paid in full at the time of consummation of relinquishment of jurisdiction and control shall not be deemed to be outstanding. If relinquishment of jurisdiction and control is to a county, the resolution of the governing body of the county shall specify the county agency, such as board of public works, drain commissioner, board of county road commissioners, or parks and recreation commission, which shall be thereafter responsible for exercise of such jurisdiction and control. Any moneys in the drain fund of any drain, over all or any part of which jurisdiction and control is relinquished, shall be used to pay any indebtedness or contract liability of its drainage district, and the balance shall be turned over to the county, township, city or village to be used solely with respect to the drain, all or part thereof, over which jurisdiction and control is assumed. If the relinquishment of jurisdiction and control and the turnover of drain fund relates to a part of a drain or drain project, such relinquishment and turnover shall not become effective until consented to by resolution of the governing body of each public corporation which has paid a part of the cost of the drain or drain project, and for this purpose the board of county road commissioners and the state highway commission shall be deemed to be the governing body for the county and the state.

The obligation of the drainage district to make the reimbursement may be evidenced by a contract or note, which contract or note may pledge the full faith and credit of the drainage district and may be made payable out of the assessments made against public corporations or out of the proceeds of drain orders or bonds issued by the drainage district pursuant to this act or out of any other available funds, but the contract or note shall not be deemed to be an obligation within the meaning of the provisions of Act No. 202 of the Public Acts of 1943, as amended, being sections 131.1 to 138.2 of the Compiled Laws of 1948.

Sec. 481. Unless otherwise provided by the drainage board, assessments against a township shall be against the township as a whole, including any incorporated village, but the drainage board may determine to assess a village separately, in which case the assessment against the township shall be exclusive of the village and the tax levies to be made by the township to pay such assessment shall not include any property taxable in the village.

280.490 Special assessment proceedings; initiating resolution, assessment roll, installments, hearing, objections; connection charges.

Sec. 490. If the legislative body of a public corporation, which shall have been assessed under this chapter, shall determine that a part of the lands therein will be especially benefited by the drain project to the extent of any portion of the amount so assessed, then it may cause such portion to be assessed, according to benefits, against the especially benefited lands, provided such special assessment method of financing is not inconsistent with local financing policy as to similar drains and sewers. The assessment shall be made under the statutory or charter provisions governing special assessments in the public corporation insofar as they may be applicable, except that if there is no other drain assessment in the district on this particular drain, the special assessment proceedings may be initiated by resolution of the governing body of the public corporation without petition and any petition or written objection in opposition to the levying of special assessments shall be advisory only and shall not make necessary a petition for the project. After determining by resolution to proceed, the governing body shall then cause a special assessment roll to be prepared and thereafter the proceedings in respect to the special assessment roll and the making and collection of the special assessments thereon shall be in accordance with the provisions of the statute or charter governing special assessments in the public corporation, except that the total assessment may be divided into any number of installments not exceeding 30, and any person assessed shall have the right at the hearing upon the special assessment roll prepared by the public corporation to object to the special assessment district previously established by said public corporation in which event due consideration shall be given to the objections. In the event the special assessments shall be levied, then all collections therefrom shall be used towards the payment of the assessment at large against the public corporation and each annual levy to be made for the payment of such assessment at large shall be reduced by the amount of money then on hand from special assessment collections available for such use. This section shall be applicable only where the drain assessment roll is confirmed subsequent to the effective date of this section. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the assessing of public corporations at large under this chapter, it being the intention hereof to provide a method whereby a public corporation may raise moneys by special assessments as above provided where such procedure conforms with local practice. In lieu of or in addition to levying special assessments, the public corporation under the same conditions and for the same purpose may exact connection, readiness to serve, availability or service charges to be paid by owners of land directly or indirectly connected with the drain project, or any combination thereof.

280.519 Augmented board; tentative determination; name of drain and district; hearing; notice, publication; final order of determination; corrections.

Sec. 519. The said augmented drainage board at its first meeting shall consider the petition for the project and make a tentative determination as to the sufficiency thereof and the practicability of the proposed drain, and shall also make a tentative determination of the public corporations to be assessed. Said augmented drainage board shall give a name to the drain and to the drainage district. The district shall be composed of the public corporations to be assessed for the cost of the project. If the augmented drainage board shall by resolution tentatively determine that there should be assessed any public corporation in a county other than those contained in the tentative findings of the director of agriculture, then no further proceedings shall be taken by the augmented drainage board, but such resolution shall have the effect of amending the preliminary finding of the director of agriculture. The director of agriculture shall then proceed as in the first instance to call a new meeting of each the drainage board and the augmented drainage board as enlarged by reason of the inclusion of such additional public corporations in another county or counties. After the augmented drainage board has made the determination specified in the first sentence of this section, then it shall fix a time and place when and where it will meet to hear any objections to the proposed drain and the petition therefor, and to the matter of assessing the cost of such drain to the designated public corporations. Notice of such hearing shall be published twice in each county involved by inserting the same in at least 1 newspaper published therein, designated by the augmented drainage board, the first publication to be not less than 20 days prior to the time of hearing. Such notice shall also be sent by registered mail to the clerk or secretary of each public corporation proposed to be assessed, except that any notice to the state shall be sent to the state highway commissioner and any notice to a county shall be sent to both the county clerk and the county road commission, if any, which mailing shall be made not less than 20 days prior to the time of hearing. Such notice shall be signed by the secretary and proof of the publication and mailing thereof shall be filed with the secretary. The augmented drainage board may provide a form to be substantially followed in the giving of such notice. At such hearing, any public corporation to be assessed or any taxpayer thereof shall be entitled to be heard. After such hearing, the augmented drainage board shall make a determination as to the sufficiency of the petition, the practicability of the drain, whether the drain should be constructed, and if so, the public corporations to be assessed, and shall issue its order accordingly, which order shall be known as the "final order of determination". No public corporation may be eliminated from, or added to, those tentatively determined to be assessed without a rehearing after notice as above provided. After the augmented drainage board has made the determinations above mentioned, then all further action in respect to such drain shall be taken by the drainage board: Provided, That the augmented drainage board may be reconvened by its chairman or any 2 members thereof, upon the same notice as hereinbefore provided for calling meetings, for the purpose of making any correction or addition to its proceedings within the scope of its powers.

the drain described in the petition or the final order of determination. The drainage board shall tentatively establish the percentage of the cost of such drain or of the several sections or parts thereof which is to be borne by public corporations in each county affected and by the state on account of any state highway, and by the county on account of any county highway. The percentage of the cost so apportioned to public corporations in each county shall then be apportioned by the drain commissioner thereof, among public corporations to be assessed in such county, which determination shall be filed with the secretary of the drainage board. In making the apportionments hereunder, there shall be taken into consideration the benefits to accrue to each public corporation and also the extent to which each public corporation contributes to the conditions which make the drain necessary. Apportionments against the state shall be based upon such benefits and contributions as related solely to the drainage of state highways, and those against the county shall be based as related solely to the drainage of its county highways. Before any tentative apportionment shall be made, the drainage board shall designate the area to be served by the drain project, which may or may not include all of the area in any public corporation to be assessed and may divide the drain into sections or parts for purposes of apportionment or construction. Nothing herein contained shall prohibit a county from assuming any additional cost of the drain if 2/3 of the members-elect of the county board of supervisors vote in favor thereof. The apportionment shall apply only to the proposed drain. The apportionments for any extensions or other work subsequently performed under section 535 shall be reestablished by the board.

280.521 Hearing of objections; notice, contents; confirmation or readjustment of apportionments; final order of apportionment.

Sec. 521. After the foregoing tentative apportionments of cost have been made, then the drainage board shall set a time and place when and where it will meet and hear any objections to such apportionments. Notice of such hearing shall be published twice in each county involved by inserting the same in at least 1 newspaper published therein, designated by the drainage board, the first publication to be not less than 20 days prior to the time of hearing. Such notice shall also be sent by registered mail to the clerk or secretary of each public corporation proposed to be assessed, except that any notice to the state shall be sent to the state highway commissioner and any notice to a county shall be sent both to the county clerk and the county road commission, if any, which mailing shall be made not less than 20 days prior to the time of hearing. Such notice shall be signed by the secretary and proof of the publication and mailing thereof shall be filed with the secretary. The drainage board may provide a form to be substantially followed in the giving of such notice. The notice shall include tentative apportionments to the several public corporations. At such hearing any public corporation to be assessed or any taxpayer thereof shall be entitled to be heard. After such hearing, the drainage board may confirm the apportionments as tentatively made, or, if in any respect it shall deem such apportionments to be inequitable, it shall readjust the same: Provided, That before any readjusted apportionments shall be confirmed, the drainage board shall set a time and place for a rehearing and shall give notice thereof as in the first instance, which notice shall also set forth the apportionments as readjusted. It shall then issue its order setting forth the several apportionments as confirmed, which order shall be known as the "final order of apportionment".

280.522 Lands and rights of way; condemnation; procedure, federal government participation; prior agreement as to highways; costs.

Sec. 522. The drainage board shall then proceed to secure the necessary lands or rights of way for the proposed drain. If the same cannot be secured by negotiation, then the drainage board may proceed under the provisions of Act No. 149 of the Public Acts of 1911, as amended, being sections 213.21 to 213.41 of the Compiled Laws of 1948, or under the applicable provisions of sections 75 to 84 of this act, and shall be deemed to be a "state agency" as that term is used in said act, or if the project is one in which the federal government is participating in any manner, then such lands or rights of way may be acquired through proceedings brought by the federal government under any appropriate federal act. No such condemnation proceedings involving highways shall be effective to take title thereto without a prior agreement with the highway agency involved. In the event that lands or rights of way shall be acquired through proceedings under a federal act, then the amount of the awards in such proceedings shall be deemed to be a part of the cost of the drain to the same extent as if the condemnation proceedings had been taken under the laws of this state.

Sec. 523. The drainage board may contract with the federal government, which term as used in this section shall include any agency thereof, whereby the federal government will pay the whole or any part of the cost of the project or will perform the whole or any part of the work connected therewith, which contract may include any specific terms required by act of congress or federal regulation as a condition for such participation on the part of the federal government. The drainage board may also contract with any private corporation or with any public corporation, which term as used in this section shall include any agency thereof, in respect to any matter connected with the construction, operation, maintenance, use or services of any drain. Such a contract may provide for service or transportation charges and that any payments made or work done by such a corporation shall relieve it in whole or in part from assessment for the cost of the drain or of its maintenance and operation. No construction work shall be undertaken until the drainage board has advertised for and received bids for the performance of such work, except for construction work to be performed by the federal government or a public corporation.

Sec. 524. The drainage board shall designate the treasurer of 1 of the counties involved as the treasurer for said board. He may designate 1 or more of his deputies who may act for him in the performance of any of his duties under this section. Such treasurer and any such deputy shall serve without additional compensation. He and each deputy county treasurer so designated shall furnish a bond in such sum as shall be fixed by the drainage board, conditioned upon the faithful discharge of his duties, the premium thereon to be paid by the drainage board. Moneys held by the treasurer shall be paid out only upon order of the drainage board, except that no such order shall be required for the payment of principal and interest on bonds.

The drainage board may provide for the payment of the special assessments in any number of annual installments, not exceeding 30, but no installment shall be less than 40% of any subsequent installment. Installments of assessments against the state and against public corporations which collect their taxes beginning approximately December 1 in each year shall become due and payable on or before April 1 of each year. Installments of assessments against other public corporations shall become due and payable on or before such dates as shall be fixed by the drainage board, depending upon the times of the collection of taxes by such public corporations. The drainage board shall fix the amount of interest, not exceeding 6%, to be paid upon unpaid installments, which interest shall become due annually on the day and month upon which the annual installments become due. The drainage board may provide for the payment of any installments in advance of their respective due dates and may prescribe the terms and conditions thereof. 280.526 Special assessment roll; contents, approval; certification to public corporation assessed; annual notice; advancements.

Sec. 526. The special assessment roll shall contain the name of each public corporation assessed, the total estimated cost of the project, or actual cost if the same has been ascertained at the time of the preparation of the roll, the percentage apportioned to each public corporation, the amount of the assessment against each public corporation based upon the percentage of apportionment, and the amount of each installment if the assessment is divided into annual installments. After the special assessment roll has been prepared, it shall be presented to the drainage board for approval. When the roll has been approved, then a statement to that effect signed by the chairman and secretary of the drainage board shall be affixed to the roll setting forth the date of approval. The chairman of the drainage board shall then certify to each public corporation assessed, the amount of the total assessment against it, the amount of the various installments if the assessment is divided into installments, the due date of each installment and the rate of interest upon installments from time to time unpaid. The chairman each year, at least 30 days prior to the time of the levying of taxes by each public corporation, shall notify it of the amount of the installment and interest next becoming due, but the failure to notify any public corporation shall not excuse it from making payment of the installment and interest. On or before the due date of any installment, each public corporation shall pay to its county treasurer the full amount thereof together with interest accruing to the due date, and within 15 days thereafter the county treasurer shall forward the amount so paid to the county treasurer acting as treasurer for the drainage board. If any public corporation fails or neglects to account to the county treasurer for the amount of any installment and interest, then the county treasurer shall advance the amount thereof from county funds in the following cases:

(1) If any bonds or other evidence of indebtedness have been issued to finance a project, the petition for which was filed after June 6, 1961 in anticipation of the collection of the installment and interest pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and the board of supervisors has previously acted, by a resolution adopted by a 2/3 vote of its members elect to pledge the full faith and credit of the county for the prompt payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds or evidences of indebtedness, or Deductions for advancements; assessments against state; spread of tax; corrections.

The county treasurer shall deduct the total amount so advanced from any moneys other than those pledged for the payment of debts and those returned to the public corporation pursuant to article 10, section 23 of the state constitution, then or thereafter payable by him to such public corporation. The board of supervisors of any county which has advanced any money for a public corporation, and which has not been reimbursed therefor, may order the public corporation and its officers to levy upon its next roll an amount sufficient to make the reimbursement on or before the date when its taxes become delinquent; and the public corporation and its tax levying and collecting officials shall levy and collect such taxes and reimburse the county. The foregoing shall not prevent the county from obtaining reimbursement by any other legal method. Assessments against the state shall be certified to the state highway commissioner and paid from state highway funds. The tax levying officials of each of the other public corporations assessed shall levy sufficient taxes to pay assessment installments and interest as the same become due unless there has been set aside money sufficient therefor. If a special assessment roll is prepared upon the basis of the estimated cost of the project, then after the actual cost has been ascertained and determined by the drainage board, the special assessments and the installments thereof shall be corrected by adding any deficiency or deducting any excess. The drainage board may order the corrections to be made upon the original roll or may order that a new corrected roll be prepared and submitted for approval by the drainage board.

Sec. 527. Assessments made under the terms of this chapter shall not constitute an indebtedness of a public corporation within any statutory or charter debt limitation, and taxes levied by a public corporation for the payment of such assessments shall not be deemed to be within any statutory or charter tax limitation. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as requiring any county, township, metropolitan district or authority to levy a tax beyond its constitutional tax limitation or any lawful increase thereof.

The bonds shall mature serially with the last maturity not later than 2 ½ years after the due date of the last installment of the assessments and there may be more than 1 principal maturity date during any 12-month period. The bonds shall be signed by the chairman and secretary of the drainage board, who shall cause their facsimile signatures to be affixed to the interest coupons attached thereto. 280.529 Additional assessment; apportionment.

Sec. 529. If for any reason the original assessments shall not be sufficient to pay the principal and interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection thereof, then the drainage board shall make such additional assessments therefor as may be necessary, apportioned as in the first instance, it being the intention hereof that the collections on assessments shall under all circumstances be sufficient to pay said principal and interest.

Sec. 530. The drainage board for each project shall continue in existence with such changes in personnel as shall result from changes in the offices of director of agriculture and drain commissioners. It shall be responsible for the operation and maintenance of the drain. Any necessary expenses incurred in administration and in the operation and maintenance of the drain and not covered by contract shall be paid by the several public corporations assessed for the cost of the drain. The assessments shall be in the same proportion as the cost of the drain was assessed unless the drainage board establishes a different proportion for the assessments after notice and hearing as provided in section 521. The drainage board, by resolution duly adopted by it, may relinquish jurisdiction and control over any part of a drain or drain project at any time when there is no outstanding indebtedness or contract liability of its drainage district, to the county, township, city or village in which the part of the drain or drain project is wholly located, if the county, township, city or village requests or consents to the relinquishment of jurisdiction and control by resolution duly adopted by its governing body. Indebtedness or contract liability of any drainage district which will be paid in full at the time of consummation of relinquishment of jurisdiction and control shall not be deemed to be outstanding. If relinquishment of jurisdiction and control is to a county, the resolution of the governing body of the county shall specify the county agency, such as board of public works, drain commissioner, board of county road commissioners, or parks and recreation commission, which shall be thereafter responsible for exercise of such jurisdiction and control. Any moneys in the drain fund of any drain, over any part of which jurisdiction and control is relinquished, shall be used to pay any indebtedness or contract liability of its drainage district, and the balance shall be turned over to the county, township, city or village to be used solely with respect to the drain, all or part thereof, over which jurisdiction and control is assumed. If the relinquishment of jurisdiction and control and the turnover of drain fund relates to a part of a drain or drain project, such relinquishment and turnover shall not become effective until consented to by resolution of the governing body of each public corporation which has paid a part of the cost of the drain or drain project, and for this purpose the board of county road commissioners and the state highway commission shall be deemed to be the governing body for the county and the state.

Sec. 539. If the legislative body of a public corporation, which shall have been assessed under this chapter, shall determine that a part of the lands therein will be especially benefited by the drain project to the extent of any portion of the amount so assessed, then it may cause such portion to be assessed, according to benefits, against the especially benefited lands, provided such special assessment method of financing is not inconsistent with local financing policy as to similar drains and sewers. Sec. 557. The commission shall elect a temporary secretary, and may adopt rules of procedure or by-laws, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. The commission shall also consider the petition for the project, and shall make a tentative determination as to the sufficiency of the petition and the necessity and practicability of the proposed project. If the commission shall determine that the petition is insufficient, it may enter an order amending or supplementing such petition, which order shall be deemed to constitute a part of the petition. If such order shall result in the inclusion of any additional public corporation which is entitled to designate a member to the commission, the commission shall adjourn the meeting and shall notify the clerk of such public corporation of the time and place of the adjourned meeting, which notice shall be given in conformity with the requirements of the notice provided for in section 556 of this act. If the commission shall at any time determine that the project is not necessary or practicable, it shall order the petition dismissed, and proceedings under such petition shall be thereby terminated. Where a petition for a project has been dismissed, such project shall not be petitioned for again under this act for a period of 1 year. If the commission shall find the project necessary and practicable and the petition, in original form or as amended by order of the commission, sufficient, it shall proceed forthwith to select a name for the district, elect a water management board, and make a tentative determination of the public corporations to be assessed for the costs of the project. The commission shall procure preliminary plans which include an estimate of costs of the project, benefits which will result therefrom to the various public corporations comprising the district, and the extent to which each public corporation contributes to the conditions which make the project necessary. The commission shall make a tentative determination, based upon such plans, of the percentage of costs to be assessed to each public corporation comprising the district, and shall transmit a written copy of such determination, together with the petition, any orders amendatory and supplementary thereto, and the preliminary plan to the water management board.

Sec. 559. Any assessment of any nature or kind determined or made under the provisions of this chapter shall be based upon benefits to the public corporation assessed and upon the extent to which such public corporation contributes to the conditions which make a project necessary: Provided, That assessments against the state shall be based solely upon the drainage or prevention of flooding of state highways, and those against the county shall be based solely upon the drainage or prevention of flooding of its county highways. This rule shall govern the director of agriculture, the commission, the board, drain commissioners and any other person in any action relating to determining public corporations to be assessed and in the making of assessments.

The detailed plans shall be submitted to the water resources commission for its approval, and no construction shall be undertaken until the detailed plans are approved. The board shall also submit the detailed plans to the water management commission for approval before any construction of the project is undertaken. The commission shall review the plans and either adopt them or recommend revisions. Revisions recommended by the commission shall be submitted by the board to the water resources commission for approval as hereinbefore provided. When the detailed plans have been approved by both the water management commission and water resources commission, they shall be known as the "official plans" and shall be filed with the secretary of the board. In approving the plans, the commission shall not be limited to matters described in the petition.

Such notice shall be signed by the secretary and proof of the publication and mailing thereof shall be filed with the secretary. The board may provide a form to be substantially followed in the giving of such notice. The notice shall include tentative apportionments to the several public corporations. At such hearing, any public corporation to be assessed or any taxpayer thereof shall be entitled to be heard. After such hearing, the board shall make a written report of its findings on the apportionments to the commission, which may either confirm the apportionments as tentatively made or may recommend readjustments of any apportionments deemed by it to be inequitable.

The board may also contract with any private corporation or with any public corporation (which term as used in this section shall include any agency thereof) in respect to any matter connected with the construction and/or maintenance of any project. Such a contract may provide that any payments made or work done by such a public corporation shall relieve it in whole or in part from assessment for the cost of the project. The board may provide for the payment of such special assessments in any number of approximately equal annual installments, not exceeding 20. Installments of assessments against the state and against public corporations which collect their taxes beginning approximately December first in each year shall become due and payable on or before April first of each year. Installments of assessments against other public corporations shall become due and payable on or before such date or dates as shall be fixed by the board, depending upon the time or times of the collection of taxes by such public corporations. The board shall fix the amount of interest, not exceeding 6%, to be paid upon unpaid installments, which interest shall become due annually on the day and month upon which the annual installments become due. Any installment or installments may be paid in advance of the due date thereof with interest computed to the next installment due date. The board shall fix the time or times for the payment of the first installment so that each public corporation can make a tax levy for the payment thereof.

280.567 Special assessment roll; contents, approval; certification to corporation assessed; annual notice of installment and interest; advancement by county; assessment against state; correction of assessment.

Sec. 567. The special assessment roll shall contain the name of each public corporation assessed, the total estimated cost of the project (or actual cost if the same has been ascertained at the time of the preparation of the roll), the percentage apportioned to each public corporation, the amount of the assessment against each public corporation based upon the said percentage of apportionment, and the amount of each installment if the assessment is divided into annual installments. After the said special assessment roll has been prepared, it shall be presented to the board for approval. When such roll shall have been approved, then a statement to the effect signed by the chairman and secretary of the board shall be affixed to said roll setting forth the date of such approval. The chairman of the board shall then certify to each public corporation assessed, the amount of the total assessment against it, the amount of the various installments if such assessment is divided into installments, the due date of each installment and the rate of interest upon installments from time to time unpaid. The treasurer shall also each year, at least 30 days prior to the time of the levying of taxes by each public corporation, notify it of the amount of the installment and interest next becoming due: Provided, That the failure to so notify any public corporation shall not excuse it from making payment of such installment and interest. On or before the due date of any installment, each public corporation shall pay to its county treasurer the full amount thereof together with interest accruing to such due date, and within 15 days thereafter such county treasurer shall forward the amount so paid to the treasurer of the board. If any such public corporation shall fail or neglect to so account to the county treasurer for the amount of any such installment and interest, then the county treasurer shall advance the amount thereof to the treasurer of the board from county funds and deduct the same from any moneys (other than those pledged for the payment of debts) then or thereafter payable by him to such public corporation. The board of supervisors of any county which shall have advanced any money for a public corporation, and which shall not have been reimbursed therefor, may order such public corporation and its officers to levy upon its next tax roll an amount sufficient to make such reimbursement on or before the date when its taxes become delinquent; and it shall be the duty of such public corporation and its tax levying and collecting officials to levy and collect such taxes and to reimburse the county: Provided, That the foregoing shall not prevent the county from obtaining reimbursement by any other legal method. Assessments against the state shall be certified to the state highway commissioner and paid from state highway funds. It shall be the duty of the tax levying officials of each of the other public corporations assessed to levy sufficient taxes to pay assessment installments and interest as the same shall become due unless there shall have been set aside moneys sufficient therefor. If a special assessment roll shall be prepared upon the basis of the estimated cost of the project, then after the actual cost has been ascertained and determined by the board, the special assessments and the installments thereof shall be corrected by adding any deficiency or deducting any excess, or refunding the amount of any prepaid assessment in excess of the assessment based upon actual cost. The board may order such corrections to be made upon the original roll or may order that a new corrected roll be prepared and submitted for approval by the board.

281.62 Inland lake level; definitions.

(a) Normal water level of any inland lake, natural or artificial, is such a level as, considering the height above sea level, established by government surveys; the high water line as disclosed by old surveys; testimony of old inhabitants; the extent to which drainage and other artificial causes have decreased the natural ground water table of the areas; the extent to which natural causes have either decreased or increased the natural ground water table; and all other pertinent surrounding facts and circumstances, will provide the most benefit to the public and best protect the public health, welfare and safety and which will best preserve the natural resources of the state, and preserve and protect the values of properties developed around said lake as a result of the creation of the normal level.

(b) Dams mean dams, embankments, dikes, pumps, weirs, locks, gates, tubes, ditches or any other devices or construction to keep and maintain the waters in lakes at normal height and level.

(c) A public inland lake is any lake which is accessible to the public via public owned lands, waters or highways contiguous thereto, or via the bed of a navigable stream and which may be used for navigation, fishing, hunting or other lawful purpose and reasonably capable of supporting a beneficial public interest, except the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

(d) A private inland lake is any inland lake other than a public inland lake.

(e) Department means the county drain commissioner or the county road commission in counties not having a drain commissioner, and if more than 1 county is involved the combined drain commissioners or drain commissioner and road commission in counties having no drain commissioner.

(f) Interested person is any person who has a record interest in the title to, right of ingress to or reversionary right to a piece or parcel of land which would be affected by a permanent change in the natural or normal mean level of a natural or artificial public or private inland lake, and in all cases, whether having such interest or not, the Michigan department of conservation shall be an interested person.

(g) Conservation department is the state conservation department.

The board of supervisors of any county in which the whole or any part of the waters of any inland lake is situated may upon its own motion, or shall within 90 days following receipt of a petition to the board of 2/3 of the freeholders owning lands abutting the lake, cause to be determined the normal height and level of the waters in the inland lake for the protection of the public health, welfare and safety and the conservation of the natural resources of this state, or to preserve property values around a lake. When a court determined lake level is established, the board of supervisors of the county or counties in which the waters are situated shall proceed with the necessary steps to construct or maintain, or both, sufficient dams to keep and maintain the water in the lake at its normal height and level. The board may drill wells to supply a lake with additional water in order to raise the level thereof or pump water from some other source, or in case it is necessary to lower the level thereof may arrange for the pumping of water from the lake.

The People of the State of Michigan enact:

281.301 Surplus water act of 1964; short title.

Sec. 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "surplus waters act of 1964".

HISTORY: New 1964, p. 23, Act 20, Imd. Eff. Apr. 29.

Sec. 2. As used in this act:

(a) "Board" means the county board of supervisors.

(b) "Commission" means the water resources commission.

(c) "Dams" means dams, embankments, dikes, pumps, weirs, locks, gates, tubes, ditches or any other devices or construction to impound or release water.

(d) "Optimum flow" means that rate and quantity of flow in any stream as determined in accordance with the provisions of this act.

(e) "Local unit" means any city, village, township, or soil conservation district acting through its governing body.

(f) "Surplus water" means that water which may be impounded without decreasing the flow of a river or stream below its optimum flow.

(g) "Plan" means a plan adopted by the board or boards and approved by an order of the commission for the best development, utilization and conservation of the surplus water of the state.

HISTORY: New 1964, p. 23, Act 20, Imd. Eff. Apr. 29.

281.303 Request for surveys; reports.

Sec. 3. Any board or group of boards or local unit or units acting singly or in concert may request the commission to undertake a survey of the water in a river basin or watershed located or partially located in such county or counties or in local unit or units of government to determine whether there is surplus water which may be available and if so, how it may be best impounded, utilized and conserved. All studies, surveys and reports made by public and other competent authorities may be utilized by the commission in making such determinations.

HISTORY: New 1964, p. 23, Act 20, Imd. Eff. Apr. 29.

281.304 Request for surveys; involvement of other boards.

Sec. 4. If it appears to the commission, after a review of the request, that a feasible plan for the impoundment, utilization and conservation of surplus water will involve the water in counties or local units other than those making the request, the commission shall so inform the requestors. If the request were originally made by a local unit only, the board of the county in which the local unit is situated shall be informed of such decision by the commission; and unless the board joins in the request and becomes an originator of the request the commission shall discontinue any further work on the survey. The requesting board may then request the other boards to join in the request so that a complete survey of the surplus water located in all affected counties may be made. Refusal on the part of any of the other boards to join in the request shall be reported to the commission, and if the commission believes that the plan can be effectuated without the cooperation of the refusing boards, it shall enter a decision to that effect in its minutes and the boards requesting the survey may proceed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

281.305 Request for surveys; determination of optimum flow; plan for improvement, utilization and conservation of surplus water; factors; limitations.

Sec. 5. (1) Upon receipt of a request, the commission shall determine the optimum flow for such rivers and streams which may be substantially affected by the impounding and releasing of surplus water and upon its completion shall require the boards to prepare and submit to the commission a plan for the impoundment, best utilization and conservation of the surplus water in accordance with the purposes of this act. The commission shall cooperate and collaborate with the boards in preparation of the plan. The plan shall specify the persons who may make use of the water and the terms, conditions and restrictions under which the water may be used.

(2) In making the determination of optimum flow and in preparing the plan the commission and boards shall consider the following factors:

(a) The range of stream flow variation.

(b) The uses that are being made of the water from the stream or which may be made in the foreseeable future by any riparian owner.

(c) The stream's waste assimilation capacity, and its practical utility for domestic use, fish and wildlife habitat, recreation, municipal and industrial water supply, commercial and recreational navigation, including portages, public and private utilities and water storage purposes.

(d) Such other factors which appear to the commission necessary adequately to protect and preserve the rights of riparians on the streams involved.

(3) No plan shall permit the impounding of water when the flow is below the optimum flow. This act shall not be construed to authorize the diversion of water from one watershed to another.

The commission shall fix the time and place for the public hearing and shall publish notice thereof. The hearing shall be held not less than 180 days after the date of the first publication. The notice shall be published once during each of 2 separate weeks in at least 1 newspaper of general circulation in each county which requested the survey or later joined therein. Notice shall be given by first class mail to each owner or party in interest of upper and lower riparian property which will be affected by the aforesaid determination and whose name appears upon the most recent local tax assessment records. The notice shall be mailed at least 60 days prior to the date of the hearing at the address shown on the tax records. At the hearing any interested person may appear, present witnesses, and submit evidence.

Order making determination of optimum flow; finality, review, parties.

(2) Upon the completion of the hearing, the commission, if it believes it to be in the furtherance of the public interest, shall enter an order making a determination of optimum flow. The order shall become final 30 days after the mailing of a copy of it by certified mail to those interested persons who appeared and testified or filed a written statement at the hearing. The order shall be subject to review as to questions of law only by a writ of superintending control in an action in the nature of certiorari brought before the order becomes final. 282.5 Soil conservation districts; creation, procedure.

Sec. 5. (a) Any 25 occupiers of land lying within the limits of the territory proposed to be organized into a district may file a petition with the committee asking that a soil conservation district be organized to function in the territory described in the petition. The petition shall set forth:

(1) The proposed name of the district.

(2) That there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare, for a soil conservation district to function in the territory described in the petition.

(3) A description of the territory proposed to be organized as a district, which description shall not be required to be given by metes and bounds or by legal subdivisions, but shall be deemed sufficient if generally accurate.

(4) A request that the committee duly define the boundaries for the district; that a referendum be held within the territory so defined on the question of the creation of a soil conservation district in the territory and that the committee determine that such a district be created. Where more than 1 petition is filed covering parts of the same territory, the committee may consolidate all or any such petitions.

Hearing; notice; determination; boundaries; subsequent petitions.

(b) Within 30 days after a petition has been filed with the committee, it shall give notice of a proposed hearing upon the question of the desirability and necessity, in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare of the creation of the district, upon the question of the appropriate boundaries to be assigned to the district, upon the propriety of the petition and other proceedings taken under this act, and upon all questions relevant to such inquiries. All occupiers of land within the limits of the territory described in the petition and of lands within any territory considered for addition to the described territory and all other interested parties, shall have the right to attend the hearings and to be heard. If it appears upon the hearing that it may be desirable to include within the proposed district territory outside of the area within which notice of the hearing has been given, the hearing shall be adjourned and notice of further hearing shall be given throughout the entire area considered for inclusion in the district, and such further hearing held. After the hearing, if the committee determines, upon the facts presented at the hearing and upon such other relevant facts and information as may be available, that there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare, for a soil conservation district to function in the territory considered at the hearing, it shall make and record its determination, and shall define, by metes and bounds or by legal subdivisions, the boundaries of the district. In making the determination and in defining the boundaries, the committee shall give due weight and consideration to the topography of the area considered, the composition of soils therein, the distribution of erosion, the prevailing land-use practices, the desirability and necessity of including within the boundaries the particular lands under consideration and the benefits the lands may receive from being included within the boundaries, the relation of the proposed area to existing watersheds and agricultural regions and to other soil conservation districts already organized or proposed for organization under this act and such other physical, geographical and economic factors as are relevant. The territory to be included within the boundaries need not be contiguous. If the committee determines after the hearing, after due consideration of the relevant facts, that there is no need for a soil conservation district to function in the territory considered at the hearing, it shall make and record its determination and deny the petition. After 6 months have expired from the date of the denial of any petition, subsequent petitions covering the same or substantially the same territory may be filed and new hearings held and determinations made thereon.

Administrative practicability, determination; referendum.

(c) After the committee has made and recorded a determination that there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare, for the organization of a district in a particular territory and has defined the boundaries thereof, it shall consider the question whether the operation of a district within such boundaries with the powers conferred upon soil conservation districts in this act is administratively practicable and feasible. To assist the committee in the determination of such administrative practicability and feasibility, the committee, within a reasonable time after entry of the finding that there is need for the organization of the proposed district and the determination of the boundaries thereof, shall hold a referendum within the proposed district upon the proposition of the creation of the district, and give notice of the referendum. The question shall be submitted by ballots upon which the words "For creation of a soil conservation district of the lands below described and lying in the county of ..... and ....." and "Against creation of a soil conservation district of the lands below described and lying in the county of ..... and ....." shall be printed or mimeographed with a square before each proposition and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before 1 or the other of the propositions as the voter may favor or oppose creation of the district. The ballot shall set forth the boundaries of the proposed district as determined by the committee. All occupiers of lands lying within the boundaries of the territory, as determined by the committee, shall be eligible to vote in the referendum.

Expenses, payment; rules; informalities.

(d) The committee shall pay all expenses for the issuance of the notices and the conduct of the hearings and referenda and shall supervise the conduct of the hearings and referenda. It shall issue appropriate rules governing the conduct of the hearings and referenda and providing for the registration of all eligible voters or prescribing some other appropriate procedure for the determination of those eligible as voters in the referendum. No informalities in the conduct of the referendum or in any matters relating thereto, shall invalidate the referendum or the result thereof if notice thereof has been given substantially as herein provided and the referendum shall have been fairly conducted.

Results, publication; committee determination.

(e) The committee shall publish the result of the referendum and thereafter consider and determine whether the operation of the district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible. If the committee determines that the operation of the district is not administratively practicable and feasible, it shall record its determination and deny the petition. If the committee determines that the operation of the district is administratively practicable and feasible, it shall record its determination and proceed with the organization of the district. In making its determination the committee shall give due regard and weight to the attitudes of the occupiers of lands lying within the defined boundaries, the number of land occupiers eligible to vote in the referendum who have voted, the proportion of the votes cast in the referendum in favor of the creation of the district to the total number of votes cast, the approximate wealth and income of the land occupiers of the proposed district, the probable expense of carrying on erosion-control operations within the district, and such other economic and social factors as may be relevant to such determination. The committee shall not determine that the operation of the proposed district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible unless at least a majority of the votes cast in the referendum upon the proposition of creation of the district have been cast in favor of the creation of the district.

Directors; district organization; application; name; certificate.

(f) If the committee determines that the operation of the proposed district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible, it shall appoint 2 directors to act, with the 3 directors elected as provided hereinafter, as the governing body of the district. The district is a governmental subdivision of this state and a public body corporate and politic, upon the taking of the following proceedings:

The directors shall present to the secretary of state an application signed by them, which shall set forth, and the application need contain no detail other than the mere recitals: (1) that a petition for the creation of the district was filed with the committee pursuant to this act, and that the proceedings specified in this act were taken pursuant to the petition; that the application is being filed in order to complete the organization of the district as a governmental subdivision and a public body, corporate and politic; and that they are the directors; (2) the name and official residence of each of the directors, together with a certification evidencing their right to office; (3) the term of office of each of the directors; (4) the name which is proposed for the district and (5) the location of the principal office of the directors of the district. The application shall be subscribed and sworn to by each of the directors before an officer authorized by the laws of this state to take and certify oaths, who shall certify upon the application that he personally knows the directors and knows them to be the officers as affirmed in the application, and that each has subscribed thereto in the officer's presence. The application shall be accompanied by a statement by the committee, which shall certify, and such statement need contain no detail other than the mere recitals, that a petition was filed, notice issued and hearing held; that the committee did duly determine that there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare, for a soil conservation district to function in the proposed territory and did define the boundaries thereof; that notice was given and a referendum held on the question of the creation of the district, and that the result of the referendum showed a majority of the votes cast to be in favor of the creation of the district; that thereafter the committee did duly determine that the operation of the proposed district is administratively practicable and feasible. The statement shall set forth the boundaries of the district as they have been defined by the committee.

The secretary of state shall examine the application and statement and if he finds that the name proposed for the district is not identical with that of any other soil conservation district or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion or uncertainty, he shall receive and file them and shall record them in an appropriate book of record in his office. If the secretary of state finds that the name proposed for the district is identical with that of any other soil conservation district, or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion and uncertainty, he shall certify such fact to the committee, which shall thereupon submit to the secretary of state a new name for the district, which shall not be subject to such defects. Upon receipt of the new name, free of defects, the secretary of state shall record the application and statement, with the name so modified in an appropriate book of record in his office. When the application and statement have been made, filed and recorded, the district shall constitute a governmental subdivision of this state and a public body corporate and politic. The secretary of state shall issue to the directors a certificate, under the seal of the state, of the due organization of the district, and shall record the certificate with the application and statement. The boundaries of the district shall include the territory as determined by the committee but in no event shall they include any area included within the boundaries of another soil conservation district organized under this act.

Subsequent petitions.

(g) After 6 months have expired from the date of entry of a determination by the committee that operation of a proposed district is not administratively practicable and feasible and denial of a petition pursuant to its determination, subsequent petitions may be filed and action taken thereon in accordance with this act.

Additional territory; petitions; evidence of establishment.

(h) Petitions for including additional territory within an existing district may be filed with the committee and the proceedings provided for in the case of petitions to organize a district shall be observed in the case of petitions for inclusion. The committee shall prescribe the form for the petitions, which shall be as nearly as may be in the form prescribed for petitions to organize a district. Where the total number of land occupiers in the area proposed for inclusion is less than 25, the petition may be filed when signed by a majority of the occupiers of the area, in which case no referendum need be held. In referenda upon petitions for inclusion, all occupiers of land lying within the proposed additional area shall be eligible to vote.

In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of, or relating to, any contract, proceeding or action of the district, the district shall be deemed to have been established in accordance with this act upon proof of the issuance of the certificate by the secretary of state. A copy of the certificate certified by the secretary of state is admissible in evidence in any suit, action or proceeding and shall be proof of the filing and contents thereof.

Boundary line changes; petition, hearing, certificate.

(i) Petitions signed by a majority of the members of each of the governing bodies of adjoining soil conservation districts may be filed with the committee asking that the boundary line between the districts be changed. The committee shall prescribe the form of the petitions, which shall set out the existing boundary line between the districts and the proposed new boundary. Within 30 days after a petition has been filed with the committee, it shall give notice of a public hearing upon the question of the proposed change of boundary. All occupiers of lands lying within the districts and all other interested persons have the right to attend the hearings and be heard. After the hearing, the committee shall determine, upon the facts presented at the hearing and upon other available facts and information, whether the operation of the districts within the proposed new boundaries would be administratively practicable and feasible. In making its determination, the committee shall give due consideration to the declaration of policy and to the standards provided in section 5, relative to the organization of districts. If after the hearing, the committee determines that the operation of the districts within the proposed new boundaries will be administratively practicable and feasible, it shall record its determination and notify the chairmen of the governing bodies of the districts of its determination. The chairmen shall present to the secretary of state an application, signed by them for a certificate evidencing the change of boundary. The application shall be accompanied by a statement by the committee certifying that the boundary between the districts has been changed in accordance with the procedures prescribed in this section, and setting forth the new boundary line. When the application and statement have been filed with the secretary of state, the

(j) Boundaries of soil conservation districts which exclude cities and incorporated villages are extended to include these municipalities. Land owners and land occupiers of cities and incorporated villages have the same rights and privileges as accorded other land owners and land occupiers under this act.

Name, procedure to change.

(k) The board of directors of a soil conservation district may petition the committee to change the district's name. The petition form shall be provided by the committee. The committee shall give due consideration to the petition and if the request is deemed needed and practical shall approve the change in name and request the secretary of state to enter the new name in its official records of the district.

282.6 Election of three directors for each district.

Sec. 6. Election of 3 directors for each district. Nominating petitions will be filed with the state soil conservation committee to nominate candidates for directors of such district at the time of the hearing. The committee shall have authority to extend the time within which nominating petitions may be filed. No such nominating petition shall be accepted by the committee, unless it shall be subscribed by 25 or more occupiers of lands lying within the boundaries of such district. Land occupiers may sign more than 1 such nominating petition to nominate more than 1 candidate for director. The committee shall give due notice of an election to be held for the election at the time of the referendum of 3 directors for the district. The names of all nominees on behalf of whom such nominating petitions have been filed within the time herein designated, shall be printed, arranged in the alphabetical order of the surnames, upon ballots, with a square before each name and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before any 3 names to indicate the voter's preference. All occupiers of lands lying within the district shall be eligible to vote in such election. The 3 candidates who shall receive the largest number, respectively, of the votes cast in such election, shall be the elected directors for such district. Directors will only assume office if there is a favorable vote for the creation of the district and the district is determined to be practicable and feasible by the state committee. The committee shall pay all the expenses of such election, shall supervise the conduct thereof, shall prescribe regulations governing the conduct of such election and the determination of the eligibility of voters therein, and shall publish the results thereof.

Any director may be removed by the state soil conservation committee upon notice and hearing, for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office, but for no other reason.

The directors may invite the legislative body of any municipality or county located near the territory comprised within the district to designate a representative to advise and consult with the directors of the district on all questions of program and policy which may affect the property, water supply, or other interests of such municipality or county.

A county, township, municipality or other subdivision of state government through its governing body may cooperate with and enter into agreement with soil conservation districts in carrying out the provisions of this act and may assist districts by providing them with such materials, equipment, moneys, personnel and other services as the governmental unit may deem advisable.

Sec. 15. Discontinuance of districts. At any time after 5 years after the organization of a district under the provisions of this act, any 25 occupiers of land lying within the boundaries of such district may file a petition with the state soil conservation committee praying that the operations of the district be terminated and the existence of the district discontinued. The committee may conduct such public meetings and public hearings upon such petition as may be necessary to assist it in the consideration thereof. Within 60 days after such a petition has been received by the committee it shall give due notice of the holding of a referendum, and shall supervise such referendum, and issue appropriate regulations governing the conduct thereof, the question to be submitted by ballots upon which the words "For terminating the existence of the ..... In making such determination the committee shall give due regard and weight to the attitudes of the occupiers of lands lying within the district, the number of land occupiers eligible to vote in such referendum who shall have voted, the proportion of the votes cast in such referendum in favor of the discontinuance of the district to the total number of votes cast, the approximate wealth and income of the land occupiers of the district, the probable expense of carrying on erosion-control operations within such district, and such other economic and social factors as may be relevant to such determination: Provided, however, That the committee shall not have authority to determine that the continued operation of the district is administratively practicable and feasible unless at least a majority of the votes cast in the referendum shall have been cast in favor of the continuance of such district.

The directors shall dispose of all property belonging to the district at public auction and shall pay over the proceeds of such sale to be covered into the state treasury unless the discontinuance be for the purpose of combining with another district, in which case the assets be turned over to the district with which it is to be combined. The directors shall thereupon file an application, duly verified, with the secretary of state for the discontinuance of such district, and shall transmit with such application the certificate of the state soil conservation committee setting forth the determination of the committee that the continued operation of such district is not administratively practicable and feasible. The application shall recite that the property of the district has been disposed of and the proceeds paid over as in this section provided, and shall set forth a full accounting of such properties and proceeds of the sale. The committee shall be entitled to all benefits and subject to all liabilities under such contracts and shall have the same right and liability to perform, to require performance, to sue and be sued thereon, and to modify or terminate such contracts by mutual consent or otherwise, as the directors of the district would have had.

The state soil conservation committee shall not entertain petitions for the discontinuance of any district nor conduct referenda upon such petitions nor make determinations pursuant to such petitions in accordance with the provisions of this act, more often than once in 2 years.

Within 30 days after receipt of a proper petition, the committee shall cause notice of hearing thereon to be given to the occupiers of land in the area proposed to be included in the consolidated district.

Order of consolidation.

The committee shall determine if consolidation as petitioned for is desirable. If it finds in the affirmative the committee shall issue an order, to be signed by the members thereof, which shall state that the districts are to be consolidated at a date specified in the order, the name of the consolidated district and the boundaries thereof.

Certificate of due organization.

Upon transmission of the order to the secretary of state a certificate of due organization under seal of the state shall issue to the directors of the district as hereinbefore provided.
